The Teen Years : 2024 marks H2Vin's 15th Anniversary and we're still enthusiastically learning, evolving, and adapting, even if the 2 directors hold more than 60 years of experience combined, we continue to improve. The economic and political landscape is quite sombre and many friends in the hospitality industry are fighting for survival. We never have stayed idle, so to help tackle the global economic status quo with you, we've decided to help as much as possible by fragmentally absorbing many price increases from producers whilst even reducing prices on more than thirty wines!

The weather has been more clement for the past couple of vintages in Europe allowing for stocks to replenish. We will soon have some white Burgundy again and have been able to add 3 new Côte de Beaune Domaines to our portfolio; Domaine Bachey Legros in Santenay, a family which spans 6 generations, where brothers, Lénaïc and Samuel Legros, produce delicious reds and some great Chassagne too from family vineyards; Domaine Philippe Chavy, renowned Puligny Montrachet producer, making a very welcome addition to complement our white Burgundy range; and Domaine Jean Chauvenet, Nuits Saint Georges, where Christophe Drag produces classic and very elegant Nuits St Georges wines. They will all be added to our list in May together with one new organic producer from Gevrey Chambertin, Domaine Tortochot, where 4th generation Chantal Tortochot creates stylistic reds with chiselled fruit, structured tannins and wonderfully bright saline acidity.

To complement our 2 grower Champagnes, Gounel Lassalle in Montagne de Reims and Larmandier Bernier in the Cote des Blancs, we will also be adding one of the very best producers from the Cote des Bars, Champagne Fleury, one of the pioneers of biodynamic in Champagne. Their Champagnes should be here early May!

The Loire is still one of our favourite regions and we are pleased to have added the wonderful Muscadets from Christelle Guibert 'Terre des Gneiss', who in collaboration with Vincent Caillé, Domaine Le Fay d'Homme join our list. Vincent's Muscadets are exceptional and remind us of the potential of a region so often denigrated (ETA May!).

Another great addition to our catalogue are the wines from Weingut Karthäuserhof, Mosel, Germany. Karthäuserhof is one of the oldest producers of the Trier region (8th oldest winery in the world) with some spectacular vineyards. The Estate has seen a revival recently and will soon be organic (ETA May!).

From Sicily, Italy, we are pleased to work again with Azienda Agricola Marabino following a brief transition, one of the very best producers located in the Noto Valley at the heart of the best Nero d'Avola vineyards. They have been organic for several years and their style is refined and elegant. With more Producers to be added throughout the year, there is plenty to look forward to in 2024!

easy-cooler®: don't forget also, we are the official UK distributor for easy-cooler®: the ideal system for presenting variable wines and serving them at optimal temperatures 'By The Glass'.

New additions are highlighted with (N), producers Certified Organic with (O) and Certified Biodynamic with (B)

Champagne

Champagne Jean de Villaré, Charly sur Marne, Vallée de la Marne

Champagne Jean de Villaré is produced by Baron-Fuente in the Vallée de la Marne, where Pinot Meunier is king. Their Grande Réserve Brut is a blend representative of the region, with a strong Pinot Meunier dominance and much finesse from the 35% Chardonnay in the blend.

Champagne Deutz, Aÿ, Vallée de la Marne

"Deutz produces wines at the more elegant end of the spectrum, expressing finesse rather than power and concentration."

Tim Atkin MW, TimAtkin.com May 2014

As one of the oldest Grandes Marques, Champagne Deutz has been making their distinctive, carefully crafted Champagnes in Aÿ, Vallée de la Marne, since 1838. With Marc Hoellinger now at the helm (former Moët & Chandon CCO), Deutz continues its tradition of producing wines characterised by their finesse, elegance and complexity. The house owns vineyards in some of the finest sites of Champagne and works closely with its grape growers to ensure quality and authenticity. Their special cuvées 'William Deutz' and 'Amour de Deutz' are testaments to the house's meticulous winemaking and patience.

(N) Champagne Fleury, Courteron

The Fleury estate was founded 1895 in Courteron in the heart of southern Champagne in the Côte des Bar. The domaine is situated among the clay-limestone hillsides formed in the Kimmeridgian period by the first tributaries of the Seine. The Source of the River Seine begins 70 km upstream, towards Saint-Seine-l'Abbaye. The family's passion for viticulture has been fuelled by Biodynamic principles, sitting on 15 hectares of land, which is comprised of 85% Pinot Noir and 10% Chardonnay; the remainder is split between Pinot Blanc (a historical variety in Champagne), Pinot Gris (replanted in 2010) and Pinot Meunier. The oldest vines were planted in 1970, and every year new ones are replanted to preserve the quality and vitality of our vineyard.

Champagne Larmandier-Bernier, Vertus, Côte des Blancs (B)

"Larmandier-Bernier is a huge favourite with me. The quality of the wines is stupendous and joyful."

Jancis Robinson MW, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com

Averaging 33 years of age, Larmandier-Bernier's 15 hectares of vineyards lie on the spectacular terroirs of the Côte des Blancs: Vertus, a 1er cru village, as well as the Grand Cru Cramant, Chouilly, Oger and Avize. According to Pierre and Sophie Larmandier, "the creation of a great Champagne, like the creation of any great wine, begins in the vineyard." This philosophy is why they manage their vineyards biodynamically, harvesting their grapes manually at optimal ripeness to produce extraordinary expressions of each terroir. Fermentation using natural yeasts in a mixture of stainless steel vats, wooden casks and barrels, together with long, slow ageing at either Brut Nature (0 g/l) or Extra Brut (2-5 g/l) allows for the clearest of expressions.

(N) Champagne Gourel Lassalle, Chigny les Roses, Montagne de Reims

The history of the Gourel-Lassalle family began at the end of the 19th century in Chigny les Roses, a village in the heart of the mountains of Reims, classified as Premier Cru. Gabriel and Alfred Lassalle bought the first vines to cultivate them. Two generations follow one another. Hélène born Lassalle married Gourel and Pierre Gourel is their grandson. Today Arnaud, a passionate winegrower, in love with his vines and his wines, perpetuates this tradition passed on for 4 generations. A passionate winegrower, Arnaud Gourel transcends his roots, together with Sophie, his inspiration. He continues on his path, elaborating his wines with passion, in order to one day pass on his terroir and his family know-how to his two sons, Leonard and Marius, who will continue to write the history of Champagne Gourel Lassalle. The vineyard, labelled as High Environmental Value (HVE) level 3A, sustainable viticulture in Champagne (VDC) extends over 5 hectares, spread over 29 plots located in the villages of Chigny les Roses, Ludes and Rilly la Montagne, classified as Premier Cru.

Alsace

Domaine Zind-Humbrecht, Turkheim (B)

"Olivier Humbrecht is one of the stars in the wine world's firmament [...] I'm going to suggest that Zind-Humbrecht is probably the best producer in Alsace, with a stunning line-up of powerful, rich wines that possess a real sense of place."

Jamie Goode, wineanorak.com

The Humbrecht family can trace their winemaking heritage back over 10 generations, although the Domaine Zind-Humbrecht story really began in 1959 through the amalgamation of the Zind and Humbrecht family vineyards. Under the stewardship of first Léonard Humbrecht and then his son Olivier, the domain has grown to around 40 hectares, including some of the very best parcels in Alsace's top Grand Cru and Lieu-Dit sites. Taking a non-interventionist approach in the cellar and paying incredible attention to detail in the biodynamic management of his vineyards, Olivier is leading the field in crafting superb terroir-driven wines.

Albert Mann, Wettolsheim (B)

"The Barthelme brothers – Jacky and Maurice – have maintained their position near the forefront of Alsace viticulture, farming a range of relatively far-flung and outstanding vineyards, as well as offering excellent value virtually throughout their range."

David Schildknecht, The Wine Advocate February 2008

This well-regarded 21 hectares Alsace domaine is run by two brothers, Maurice and Jacky Barthelmé, in the village of Wettolsheim near Colmar. Albert Mann, Maurice's father-in-law, decided to use modern production tools, whilst embracing the indigenous characteristics of his land. His philosophy was to make wine using the elements of the soil without the help of fertilizers. The Barthelmé brothers have embraced his beliefs and are now at the forefront of a group of organic/biodynamic Alsace producers.

This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

Loire

Château de la Gravelle, Muscadet, Saint-Fiacre-sur-Maine, Nantes (O)

"Owned by Véronique Günther-Chéreau, Ch. La Gravelle in the commune of Gorges, produces wines that are fresh and mineral. The quality has been progressive especially since the start of the conversion to organic viticulture in 2010."

La Revue du Vin de France

Situated on a hill in the commune of Gorges at the heart of the Muscadet region, this impressive 17 hectares property boasts an unusual terroir, as its subsoil is composed of volcanic rock overlain by a layer of clay. A strong citrus character and defined minerality are the resulting hallmarks. Meticulously tended by the owner Véronique Günther-Chéreau, the 65-year-old vines yield a wine of classic Muscadet styling. Lees ageing (sur lie) brings a subtle richness to the mid palate.

White

Damien Laureau, Savennières, Anjou-Saumur (O)

"This domaine has found its cruising speed and is now one of the unmissable names in the appellation."----- La Revue du Vin de France

With 8.5ha of organically farmed vineyards, Damien Laureau currently produces three very different expressions of the Savennières terroir, produced from 3 plots of land: Les Genêts, Le Bel Ouvrage and Savennières-Roche-aux-Moines. Working with a tiny team out of a small shed, everything here is done by hand and the attention to detail shines through in Damien's wines. As a result, production remains very small.

White

Philippe Delesvaux, Coteaux du Layon, Saint Aubin de Luigné, Anjou-Saumur (B)

"Certified organic and practising biodynamics since 2000, the domaine is a past master in the selection of late harvested and noble rot fruit. They eschew all chaptalisation."

La Revue du Vin de France

Philippe Delesvaux is one of the most meticulous producers we know and we admire his decision to make sweet wines despite a very difficult market. Very few people really understand these wines and the huge amount of work that is required to achieve such great results year after year. In addition, his 11 hectares of vineyards are fully biodynamic and he is a great defender of the appellation.

Moulin Touchais, Coteaux du Layon, Doué-La-Fontaine, Anjou-Saumur

"An iconic Loire estate, Moulin Touchais ferments in stainless and bottles after only 6-8 months, then holds wine back for at least a decade. [...] the opportunity to benefit from maturation and at reasonable prices should not be missed."

David Schildknecht, The Wine Advocate July 2008

With 35 hectares of its 150 hectares of vineyard dedicated to sweet wine, Moulin Touchais must be one of the most influential producers of Coteaux du Layon. The estate itself dates back to 1787 and 8 generations of the Touchais family have been involved in its running with Jean-Marie Touchais now at the helm. The family believe that their wines only really come into their own after being aged for a minimum of 10 years, so are kept in their spectacular underground cellars until ready, when only the very best cuvées are selected to be released under the Moulin Touchais label.

Domaine de Bablut, Anjou, Anjou-Coteaux de l'Aubance, Anjou-Saumur (O)

"Christophe Daviau runs this extensive domaine following biodynamic principles, applying great care to his cuvées parcelaires, including the Petra Alba (Cabernet Franc grown on chalk). The Coteaux de l'Aubance cuvées offer concentration and aromatic precision."

La Revue du Vin de France

The Daviau family have owned vines on the hills surrounding Brissac since 1546. Today, their 50 hectares of vineyards spread over numerous and varied parcels in and around the commune. Following the completion of his wine studies at the University of Bordeaux; Christophe Daviau, heir to the family business, now manages Domaine de Bablut. Due to his great respect for the environment, Christophe committed himself to organic farming. Furthermore, inspired by natural activist Nicolas Joly, Christophe adopts many biodynamic practices too. His philosophy is to create a harmonious balance between terroir and grape variety, which he does with serious aplomb.

Château de Plaisance, Rochefort-Sur-Loire, Anjou-Saumur (B)

The Château de Plaisance is located on the 'Butte de Chaume', one of the most beautiful and only 1er Cru classified terroir of Anjou! The vineyard has been run organically and biodynamically since 1995. Though the soils of Chaume are known for their beautiful sweet wines, Guy Rochais was the first to create a dry white: the famous 'Chaume sec de Guy Rochais'. His creation in fact earned him a penalty fine for non-compliance with the AOC body, hence he's since renamed this dry white 'The insolent'.

After 60 years at the helm of Château de Plaisance, the Rochais family have now sold the estate to a young winemaker, Vanessa Cherruau. Born and trained in Angers, she has learnt her winemaking skills both in France and abroad. Vanessa's first visit to the terroirs of the Château de Plaisance was literally 'love at first sight' and in 2019 her very first vintage at Chateau de Plaisance was released!

Clos Rougeard, Saumur, Chacé, Anjou-Saumur

"The Foucaults are the singular superstars." - David Schildknecht, The Wine Advocate August 2007

For over a century the Foucault family lead the way as the ultimate Cabernet Franc producer in the Loire, standing alongside key markers like that of the late Didier Dagueneau (Domaine Didier Dagueneau), for Sauvignon Blanc. Nady Foucault took over his father's domaine with his brother, Charly, back in 1969, became the 8th generation of their family to run this extraordinary small estate. Very sadly, Nady's brother Charly passed away in December 2015 and the family sold the 11 hectare estate to the Bouygues brothers, current owners of Château Montrose in Bordeaux; Nady having since parted, post a transitional handover period to ensure premium consistency.

A spirit of continuity, Cyril Chirouze took over the management of the estate in November 2022. Faithful to the vision of the Foucault brothers who gave birth to its identity, he intends to preserve the spirit of Clos Rougeard and respect the DNA and the uniqueness of each of the terroirs. The philosophy remains the same: "leave the wines alone" and allow them to fully express their purity and character. This continuity was an essential element for the owners of the estate, Martin and Olivier Bouygues, as well as for Pierre Graffeuille, at the head of the family vineyards since March 2022.

As far as viticulture and winemaking are concerned, everything seems so simple here: good grapes, good oak barrels, long élevage in their tuffeau cellars - nothing different to many other producers then! However, the results are always magnificent, class with a capital "C", not flashy or exuberant but simply great wines. Unfortunately, too many people know and the demand largely outstrips the small production from this small jewel of an estate.

This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

"whites have obvious class and demonstrate all the potential for white-wine production in Saumur. The reds, not to be outdone, capture a unique expression of Cabernet Franc that surpasses all expectations. This is a departure for the real or supposed spirit of Saumur, with a quality of fruit that puts them alongside the greatest wine in France, be they from Burgundy, the Languedoc or Bordeaux." ----- Bettane & Desseauve's Guide to The Wines of France

Romain Guiberteau is a very ambitious young producer, having previously worked with Nady Foucault at Clos Rougeard and states "An internship with Clos Rougeard is an internship for life." There is no better mentor than Nady; the progress made by Romain is stupefying and his Saumur Blancs from his 14.5 hectares of vineyards are stunning expressions of Chenin Blanc on the Brézé terroirs.

Brendan Stater-West, Saumur, Saint-Just-sur-Dive, Anjou-Saumur

Originally, from Oregon in the US, Brendan was not born into a winemaking family, just a family that "loves and drinks wine every day" and never thought that he would end up working in the industry. However, on arrival in France to teach English in 2007 he caught the wine bug and has not looked back since. Beginning his new career by joining the team at Domaine Guiberteau, Brendan still works there today and at the beginning of 2015, Romain proposed that Brendan could lease a 1ha plot of young Chenin vines in Bizay, next to the Clos de Guichaux, to begin producing his own wines. This first vintage was bottled at the end of March 2017, having spent 12 months in neutral oak barrels (225L, 300L and 400L), followed by 6 months in stainless steel tank. Brendan seeks the same purity and precision in his wines as Domaine Guiberteau, with a 'transparent' reflection of the specific terroir.

This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

"...domaine produces 'traditional' Bourgueil and that we like. They keep well and benefit from decanting in order to show their full charm."
Gault & Millau 2010

Pierre Guyot first began producing wine at Lamé-Delisle-Boucard in 1869. The business has always been very much a family affair with Pierre's son-in-law Jules Lamé pioneering grafting vitis vinifera vines onto American Rootstock after the phylloxera epidemic. Originally, their wines were sold in bulk to local négociants, but the celebrated 1947 vintage inspired the family to begin bottling and selling wine under their own label. Unlike many other French estates, Lamé-Delisle-Boucard has not been split up by the Napoleonic inheritance laws and has steadily increased in size to 44 hectares over the 5 generations. Planted over a diverse range of soil types, with an average vine age of 35-40 years, Cabernet Franc represents 85% of their vineyard holdings, with 15% planted to Cabernet Sauvignon.

Now with Pierre's great, great grandchildren at the helm, Philippe and Stéphanie Boucard, Lamé-Delisle-Boucard is highly regarded for its superb, mature reds, which are aged in the estate's beautiful Tuffeau cellars under the cuverie.

Philippe Alliet, Chinon, Cravant-les-Côteaux, Touraine

"domaine subscribes to an ambitious and contemporary vision of Chinon, which places it firmly amongst the very best in the region."
La Revue du Vin de France

We are thrilled to work with Philippe Alliet, one of the icons of the Loire Valley. It's a real privilege to be able to source these highly sought after wines, which originate from his small 17 hectares estate in Cravant-les-Côteaux, the location of some of the finest Cabernet Franc vineyards in the Loire. Inspired by his love for top Bordeaux, Philippe's goal is to make wines that share the same concentration, density and power using low yields, optimally ripe fruit and full destemming of the grapes. All of his cuvées show great purity and balance and we are convinced that they have the ability to age for a decade or more.

"Over recent vintages Bertrand Sourdis has refined his technique and now Domaine de Pallus is amongst the select elite group of most dynamic vigneronns of the appellation."

La Revue du Vin de France February 2013

We first met Bertrand Sourdis when he was the winemaker for Dominio de Atauta, one of the finest wineries in Ribera Del Duero. Now at the helm of this family-run 18 hectares domaine in Chinon, Bertrand is already changing and improving the vineyard management and has brought new techniques to the cellar. As a result, he is expressing the true potential of Domaine de Pallus: silky, deep rich Cabernet Francs without any of the green vegetal character so often showing in the lesser wines from this region.

(N) Domaine Huet, Vouvray, La Croix Buissee, Touraine (B)

There are few producers who can almost single handedly claim such top-tier recognition within their appellation of the Loire, to the likes of Domaine Didier Dagueneau or even Clos Rougeard, and one of those is Domaine Huet! Established by Victor and Gaston Huet, this iconic estate has been one of the standard bearers of Vouvray since 1928. Presently the estate encompasses 35 hectares spread across three plots: le Haut-Lieu, le Mont, and Clos du Bourg. A true pioneer of biodynamic practices, with Gaston Huet being one of the very first vigneronns to adopt and implement a definitive focus on single-vineyard bottlings, a transformative encounter in 1988 amplified terroir complexity and identity with values preserving terroir authenticity.

Following the passing of second-generation owner Gaston Huet in 2002, day-to-day operations were under the full control of his son-in-law, Noël Pinguet. That year, Anthony Hwang, a Filipino-born New York businessman bought into the partnership. Mr. Hwang and Mr. Pinguet continued the legacy until 2012, when Mr. Pinguet retired. Today, the winemaking and vineyard duties belong to Benjamin Joliveau, a Vouvray native who has trained closely with previous winemaker Jean-Bernard Berthomé as well as Noël Pinguet. Remaining true to the philosophy of the founders, Sarah Hwang and Benjamin Joliveau continue to craft superbly long-lived Chenin Blanc from these stunning vineyards.

Domaine Bonnigal-Bodet, Domaine de la Prévôté, Amboise, Limeray, Touraine

The Domaine Bonnigal-Bodet is located in Limeray (Amboise), in the heart of the Loire Valley. Having been handed down from father to son since 1927, the estate is now run by the 4th generation and long-time best friends' Jean Baptiste Bonnigal and Stéphane Bodet, who took over together in 2015.

The vineyards themselves are stretched across a large range of terroirs, with a multitude of local grape varieties, including Chenin Blanc, Côt, Sauvignon Blanc and Pineau d'Aunis. Using organic and biodynamic practices Jean Baptiste and Stéphane use their skills learnt in New Zealand and Bordeaux to create wines of both precision and purity.

They believe that the work in the vineyard is essential to harvest grapes of optimum quality, which is why they consider manual work so necessary and unavoidable to respect both the plant and fruit. The soil is worked to encourage deep root implantation, allowing the vines to express through the grapes the purest expression of the terroir and vintage.

Domaine Pellé, Menetou-Salon, Morogues, Central Vineyards (O)

"Paul-Henry Pellé, the son of Anne, is steadily refining his techniques in the vineyard and in the cellar. His Menetou-Salon wines achieve an exceptional level of purity for the appellation. The single vineyard Clos Blanchais is profound and dynamic."

La Revue du Vin de France, Le Guide des Meilleurs Vins de France 2016

The Domaine, directed by Anne Pellé and her son Paul-Henry, is without question the leader in the appellation. The quality of the wines has significantly improved over the last two decades, keeping the charm and rigour given by the Kimmeridgian terroir. Using organic methods in the vineyards they have also improved and modernised the winery to produce clear, striking and racy Sauvignons on a par with the best in Sancerre and Pouilly Fumé.

This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

"Pascal Reverdy – along with his wife and sister-in-law – continues to uphold this family's deservedly high reputation."

David Schildknecht, The Wine Advocate August 2010

With Nicolas' untimely death, Pascal Reverdy was faced with a big challenge. Helped by Nicolas' widow Sophie and his own wife Nathalie, he decided to carry on the work he started with his brother. The results are superb with the same poised, mineral-driven whites and rich, crunchy-fruited reds. Working all the 14 hectares of vineyards manually without weed killers or use of industrial fertilisers contributes greatly to the ultimate quality of their wines. We are pleased to be working with one of the best domaines in Sancerre.

"True artists with Sauvignon... [Mellot family's] worthy aspirations have gradually raised them to the peaks of the great Sauvignons of the world. Alphonse Mellot's white Sancerres are amongst the most brilliant and pure illustrations of the genius of the Sauvignon grape."

Michel Bettane & Thierry Desseave, The World's Greatest Wines

Alphonse Mellot Junior has elevated the family domaine to the highest level and is widely acknowledged as one of the best producers in Sancerre. This large estate is using biodynamic methods and although most of the wines are fermented in new or nearly new oak barrels, the wines are very fine and precise with piercing acidity and purity.

Lead by Jean-Dominique and his cousin Jean-Laurent, the family domaine produces a range of different single vineyard Sancerres in white, red and pink that reflects not just the rich variety of the terroirs in the region, but the concept of the cousins who seem to demonstrate that the Sancerrois is no less fascinating than the Côte d'Or."*

Stephen Reinhardt, The Wine Advocate October 2016

One of the oldest established families in Sancerre, cousins Jean-Laurent & Jean-Dominique Vacheron have been fighting to regain their position at the top of the appellation. Recent vintages have been exceptional and equally good throughout. Certified organic, the Vacherons are now seen as equals to Alphonse Mellot. "I first tasted his wines back in early 2013, little more than three years ago, but I was immediately captivated. They were stunning, flavoursome, minerally and precise. In an appellation where Louis-Benjamin Dagueneau seems at times to be operating in an isolated bubble of excellence, suddenly realised I had found someone working at a similar level."

Chris Kissack, thewinedoctor.com September 2016

Jonathan is the fifth generation of Pabiots to have toiled the soils around Pouilly-sur-Loire. Whilst the cellar is located in Les Loges, the 18 hectares of vineyards are spread widely across the appellation, encompassing five communes in total: Villiers, Charenton, Tracy, Saint-Laurent and Les Loges. This soil diversity ensures that the cuvées offer a diverse range of styles whilst the site variations act as an insurance policy against the perpetual threats of frost and hail.

Roger Voss, Wine Enthusiast July 2016

Jean-Michel Masson, now supported by his daughter and son, Mélanie and Pierre-François, has been making trademark Pouilly Fumé for more than 30 years. Their constant improvements in the vineyards and search for perfection in the cellar have steadily lifted the domaine to the very top of the appellation. The 21 hectares of vineyards are planted on limestone with a mix of clay and flint, which contributes finesse and complexity to the wines. ## (N) Domaine Le Fay d'Homme, Muscadet Sevre et Maine

The winery is nestled in the heart of the Muscadet Sèvre et Maine appellation, the Domaine Fay d'Homme is a family affair, the craft of winemaking is a family tradition that is passing on from generation to generation in Caillé family. In 1986, Vincent Caillé, took over the lead in running the family vineyard's operations, and since then, he is producing wines of the highest standards, combining low intervention and traditional methods, producing premium quality wines that are also expressive and reflect the Muscadet Sevre et Maine terroir.

The 'Christelle Guibert Connection' - during a work trip in her home region of Muscadet for the British journal "Decanter", Christelle was stricken by the high number of abandoned vineyards and by the growing number of producers who were working on the terroir. This region was the perfect place to realise her dream, and 'Terre de Gneiss' was born from her wish to make this forgotten wine region rise. Christelle created Vine Revival with her sister Corinne, and immediately called Vincent Caillé from Domaine Le Fay d'Homme to forge a union. 'Terre de Gneiss' and 'Terre de Gabbro' are the result of this association; modern Muscadets, based on terroir, stemming from traditional and biodynamic viticulture practices. These wines have a certain complexity which will allow them to have space amongst prestigious wines from a region in full renewal!

Both Christelle and the Caillé family have experienced many challenges in the past seven years, from severe frosts to serious power outages that at one point caused the loss of their entire harvests; despite everything, Vincent and Christelle have managed to move beyond that, keeping quality as their main goal producing excellent wines each vintage.

Domaine Didier Dagueneau, St-Andelain, Pouilly Fumé

"...wines smelled not of Sauvignon Blanc but of Spring. Sipping Buisson Renard was like standing beneath a waterfall: flavours were clean, limpid eerily palpable, a soft shock. Silex was not the parody flintlock of popular myth; it was pure, sappy, soaring, rich, finishing with just a hint of stone after rain. I had not been expecting this calm and majestic retreat from the varietal. I learnt something new."

Andrew Jefford, The New France

Didier's untimely death has left a huge void in our lives. Didier Dagueneau was, without doubt, one of the most unconventional, yet creative winemakers anywhere. Never one to rest on his laurels, Didier was always experimenting with his techniques with the goal of raising the bar on quality. Whether it was organic viticulture, sans-soufre winemaking, own-rooted vineyards, natural fermentations or experimental barrels, he always had an open mind to both the benefits and pitfalls of these practices. In the end, he was his own toughest critic and forged his own philosophies, which were more often than not grounded in the wisdom of tradition.

The complexity of the wines is achieved by extremely low yields and severe pruning across the 12 hectares of the domaine. The winemaking process is not set in stone, but is adapted according to each vintage; with the guiding principles of contact with the lees and never allowing the wines to undergo malolactic fermentation. Didier's son, Louis-Benjamin, is now in charge and has so far shown himself as more than capable of upholding the quality of these brilliant wines. He worked directly by Didier's side for several years and, with the help of a great team, is pursuing his father's work with great skill, determination and, indeed, success. This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

Cave Saint Verny, Veyre-Monton, Côtes d'Auvergne

"Hats off to the Cave Saint-Verny co-op in the département of Puy-de-Dôme in the Auvergne far north east of France's Massif Central."

Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com September 2013

Founded in 1950, Cave Saint Verny is the sole co-operative in Puy-de-Dôme. It takes its name from Saint-Verny, the 15-year-old son of a wine grower who met his untimely death in 1287 as a result of persecution for his faith. Miracles were said to have happened in the presence of the young martyr's body. With resident oenologist Olivier Mignard at the helm, the cave sources grapes from 53 communes with 115 growers who each have a holding of less than 2ha. The vineyards are mostly planted to Gamay and Pinot Noir, which are historically blended in the Auvergne. Cave Saint-Verny is an excellent ambassador for the Côtes d'Auvergne and their objective is to give the region the wider recognition it deserves.

Domaine Moreau-Naudet, Chablis

"Make sure you taste Moreau," Samuel Billaud advised as I departed his domaine. Unfortunately, they had escaped my "clutches" during my round of tastings, but thankfully their UK importers filled in the gap back in London with a selection of 2012s. This is an excellent producer. The basic principles can be compared to those of Vincent Dauvissat."

Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate August 2015

The hugely sad and shocking death of the young, highly talented Stéphane Moreau at the end of August 2016 robbed the winemaking world of an undoubted star. His family and the domaine team have vowed to carry on his brilliant work. With 13.5 hectares under vine, including a tiny 1 hectare parcel in Les Pargues planted with 50-year-old vines with the same exposure as Vaillons and Montmains, the domaine has fine vineyard holdings. The style reminds us very much of that of Vincent Dauvissat, with extreme purity and intensity. One of his mentors was Didier Dagueneau and it shows, mainly in the precision and razor sharp flavours of his wines, but also in the quirky packaging.

Domaine Long-Depaquit, Chablis

".....a Burgundy stalwart that at least from where I stand, is unfairly disparaged by some cognoscenti. I always put them right [...] they currently produce some really quite excellent wines under head winemaker Alain Serveau"

Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate December 2016

Founded in 1791, Domaine Long-Depaquit has established itself as one of the best estates in Chablis, under the ownership and management of the famous Burgundian Bichot Family. Chief winemaker Alain Serveau works closely with estate winemaker Mathieu Mangenot, with both favouring restricted yields and non-interventionist techniques in order to create authentic and elegant Chablis, with crisp acidity and a strong mineral character.

Vincent Dauvissat, Chablis

"These Chablis seem to be sculpted by the earth itself, exquisitely balanced and with more minerality than almost all of their peers. Even the village cru would leave other premier crus behind."

Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate August 2014

There is no better Chablis than those produced by Vincent Dauvissat. Iconic wines, they are found on the tables of all the greatest restaurants in the world and it's easy to understand why demand largely exceeds the tiny production.

Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate August 2015

Laurent Tribut is following the same principles and style as his brother-in-law, Vincent Dauvissat. Very unassuming, Laurent makes tight, sometimes austere wines, from his tiny 5ha plot of vines, that need two or three years before showing their true potential.

Domaine Besson, Chablis

Situated in the heart of Chablis, Domaine Besson is the proud owner of an exceptional wine-producing heritage, seeking to express and transmit in its wines the purity and sensitivity of this unique terroir. The estate is an independent family-owned and run domaine spanning four generations. Today, their 21 hectares comprises holdings in Petit Chablis, Chablis and selected Premiers/Grands Crus. Alain Besson has handed more control to his daughter Camille, who looks after the winemaking and marketing, along with his son Adrien who is responsible for the vineyard work. Practising 'lutte raisonnée' in the vineyards and manual harvesting (for the Grands Crus only), their thoughtful, sensitive winemaking gives rise to wines that offer a pure expression of fruit in a fine and elegant styling.

Domaine Marc Roy, Gevrey Chambertin

".....style is a mix of old style classicism coupled with moderate new oak treatment that doesn't upset the balance or transparency. The wines are absolutely worth trying should you see them, and at the prices that I have seen on offer, they represent fine value as well."

Allen Meadows, Burghound.com January 2014

Located in the heart of Gevrey Chambertin, this miniscule 4 hectares estate has passed from father to son for generations, yet the winemaking is now carried out by Marc's only daughter Alexandrine. She has made a huge impact on the domaine, having previously spent time in other classic Pinot Noir growing regions, such as Oregon and Central Otago. Although Alexandrine has no Grand or 1er Crus, her village wines are of an exceptionally high quality coming from very old vines (70 year old for the Vieilles Vignes).

Domaine Rossignol-Trapet, Gevrey Chambertin (B)

"A truly excellent domaine" Allen Meadows, Burghound.com January 2008

The 14 hectare Domaine Rossignol-Trapet was created as recently as 1990 when the original Louis Trapet vineyard holdings were divided between his daughter and his son-in-law Jacques Rossignol. Since then Jacques' two sons, Nicolas and David have gradually taken over the reins of the business. The domaine has been certified 100% biodynamic since 2004. With vineyards spread equally across Village, 1er Cru and Grand Cru holdings in Gevrey Chambertin, the domaine offers a fascinating insight into the sheer variety of flavours that this famous Burgundy village can muster. The brothers are very pleased with their 2014s, which reflect their very precise origins with clarity and elegance. They prefer to harvest later and use less new oak, as their aim is to achieve fruit ripeness rather than oak dominance. Typically, the 'Village' wine matures in 10-15% new oak, the 1er Crus 25% new oak and the Grands Crus 50% new oak. Purity of fruit and freshness are the hallmarks here.

(N) Domaine Tortochot, Gevrey Chambertin (O)

Domaine Tortochot is one of the more famous estates run by 4th generation Chantal Tortochot, taking over from her father in the late 1990s. Blessed with 12 hectares of vines are spread over 34 separate parcels, including some of the most enviable sites in Burgundy, featuring plots in the Grands Crus of Chambertin (most northern section of the vineyard), Mazis-Chambertin and Charmes-Chambertin, as well some beautifully positioned 1er Crus including the rows of vines in 1er Cru 'Lavaux Saint-Jacques' bordering the famous 'Clos Saint-Jacques'. Moving towards organic viticulture since 2003 she converted the entire vineyards to organic agriculture in 2008. Chantal makes traditional style Gevrey, lots of chiselled fruit, structured tannins with bright acidity - there's style in these wines. Grapes are 100% destemmed, fermentation Temperatures are supervised before wines make transfer to medium toast barrel cellaring; 100% new oak for Grands Crus, 50% for 1er Crus and 25% for village wines, with Malolactic taking place during the course of the 15 - 18 month ageing period. Gevrey Chambertin "Les Corvées" is her experimental vineyard, where Chantal tries net cultivation techniques and non-chemical substances - she believes that the soil should be as natural as possible. The 1er Crus are fine examples of the terroir. The Lavaux Saint Jacques is a deep garnet colour with fine cherry and earthy aromas. The Champeaux is of a more fruity/floral style with notes of cherry and rose. This is a very elegant pinot with an impressively long finish. The Charmes has spicy, fruity, smoky aromas with deep red fruit on the palate. The estate boasts 4 Grand Crus, three are in Gevrey – Charmes, Chambertin and the flagship Grand Cru, the excellent Mazis Chambertin with its rich fruit and liquorice flavours, strong with elegant tannins and great potential. The estate also has a modest 7 rows of vines in the Clos de Vougeot Grand Cru vineyard producing dark berry aromas and underbrush nuances.

".....a changing of the guard at this iconic domaine as long-time régisseur (resident manager) Thierry Brouin, who has held this post since 1980, will cede the position as of April 2018 to Boris Champy. Champy is originally from Champagne and has held positions working for several of the Moueix wineries in Bordeaux and California as well as that of looking after the vineyards of Maison Louis Latour since 2008....." ----- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com January 2018

This famous 11 hectares domaine in Morey St Denis owns the largest single holding of any Grand Cru vineyard in Burgundy, 8.7ha of Clos des Lambrays. With a history stretching back to the mid-19th century, the domaine had been in the hands of the Freund family (originally from Koblenz, Germany) since 1996. In April 2014, it was purchased by LVMH, yet the winemaking responsibility and general management of the Domaine now firmly lays in the hands of the contagiously passionate Jacques Devauges. Jacques, says "Rediscovering the essence and emotion found in the mythical bottles of Clos des Lambrays from the early 1900s, which still impress today after so many decades. Such is the vision of the whole team at Domaine des Lambrays, and the inspiration driving our daily efforts in the vineyard and the cellar.....we enter a new chapter in the long and rich history of the Clos des Lambrays"

Domaine Georges Lignier, Morey St Denis

"Georges Lignier's nephew Benoît Stehly [...] has been involved in the domaine since 2002 and took over sole responsibility in 2008, since which time the wines have become finer and finer." ----- Jancis Robinson MW, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com

With an extraordinary terroir covering 16 hectares split between 50 different plots, Domaine Georges Lignier et Fils cultivates 17 appellations including 4 top Grand Crus. At 1.5ha, they are the largest owner of Clos Saint-Denis and control over a hectare of Clos de la Roche. Benoît Stehly, nephew of Georges Lignier, has run the estate since 2003 having worked at the Domaine for a decade alongside his uncle. His approach is very delicate whilst seeking maximum aromatic concentration and the quality has improved dramatically as a result. The average age of the vines is 50 years and there hasn't been any major replanting for more than 15 years, resulting in vineyards where production is regulated by means of low yields. 70 to 90% of the fruit is destemmed with the wine directly transferred to 228 litre oak barrels post ferment to mature for a period of 18 - 20 months. At the Villages level, the wines are matured in used oak barrels (sourced from Vosges, Allier and Nivers forests), while 1er Crus see 25-30% new oak and Grand Crus 50% new oak. Benoît's deep respect for tradition and expressing terroir ensure that his wines evoke their precise origins with clarity and poise.

Domaine Confuron-Cotetidot, Vosne Romanée

"I was particularly impressed by the great variation in flavour they conjure from their various vineyards, all of which seemed to adhere to the classic expectation for their appellation."----- Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com January 2018

In charge of Domaine de Courcel during the mornings, Yves Confuron returns to look after the family Domaine, Confuron-Cotetidot, for the rest of the day, helped by his brother Jean-Pierre. This is one of the most serious and consistent Domaines in the Côte d'Or and even the village wines are superb! Being an advocate of traditional Burgundian red wine making techniques wines are aged longer here than most. Yves is one of the latest in the region to pick his vineyards, requiring riper stems for whole bunch vinification. There is true sense of definitive terroir resounding here, wines which are seriously built and seductive. However, it is the Vosne Romanée 1er Cru 'Les Suchots' which is many followers' favourite. All wines exhibit a profound sense of place with fine intensity. They should age very well over the longer-term.

Tim Atkin MW, TimAtkin.com June 2016

With over 25 years of winemaking experience at renowned Burgundy domaines such as Comte Armand and Domaine de la Vougeraie, and as a consultant in Chile, California, Canada and Australia, Pascal Marchand possesses a deep understanding of terroir-driven wines. At the beginning of 2006, he created his new micro-négociant label. For Pascal's first vintage, he produced almost 1,000 cases from 7 different wines, mainly from the Côte de Nuits. He now offers in excess of 40 different appellations from the Côte de Nuits, as well as a smattering of wine from the Côte de Beaune. His fruit is sourced from growers he knows well and in whom he has total confidence. All of his wines originate from vineyards with vines of a minimum of 35 years of age. Some of his growers are certified organic; some are organic in ethos but work without certification. All though are highly dedicated to quality. Pascal's partnership with his long-time friend Moray Tawse marks a commitment to crafting wines that are amongst the finest expression of Burgundy's most celebrated terroirs.

Domaine du Clos Frantin, Nuits St Georges

"Albert Bichot sets its bar much higher than in the past. Good for them is what I say." ----- Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate December 2015

Wholly owned by the respected family-run Burgundian house Albert Bichot, this fine single estate is located in Nuits St Georges and comprises 13 hectares of prime Côte de Nuits vineyards, of which 8 hectares are Premier and Grand Cru vineyards. Respect for the soils, rigorous pruning and green harvesting all help in ensuring the final quality of the fruit. Winemaker Cyrille Jacquelin and team carry out the vinification and maturation gently and respectfully, adapting techniques to complement the fruit style of each particular vintage. The elegance and vibrancy of the 2013 vintage shines through in all the domaine's Premiers and Grands Crus. Fine aromatic expressions abound, alongside precisely chiselled tannins allowing the typicité of the appellations to be clearly appreciated.

(N) Domaine Jean Chauvenet, Nuits St Georges

Domaine Jean Chauvenet is a perfect example of the Burgundian family-run holding. Lying in Nuits-Saint-Georges district within metres of Vosne-Romanée, its 10 hectares of wines include no fewer than 5 Nuits-Saint-Georges 1er Crus. Run by Christophe Drag and his wife Christine, they work tirelessly towards organic certification, holding a single golden rule of having the utmost respect for the expression of each terroir to yield a variety of different wines. Together they have brought a modern and energetic touch to this family Domaine and are recognised for producing elegant and stylish wines of incomparable texture. Christophe distinguishes between the north and south 1er Crus, deeming those of the north to be more delicate and those of the south the more structured. His village holdings in Nuits-St-Georges and Vosne-Romanée are also held in high esteem with 'Les Vaucrains' standing out amongst its finest.

"With the sons of Robert Chevillon, Denis and Bertrand, now firmly in charge, this is a splendid domaine with a marvellous palette of premiers crus and very old vines – 75 years in the case of Les Saint-Georges, Les Cailles and Les Vaucrains. Where else can you sample eight premier cru Nuits-Saint-Georges under one roof?" ----- Clive Coates MW, The Wines of Burgundy

Brothers Bertrand and Denis Chevillon have taken after their father, working with meticulous attention to detail, to maintain the impeccable reputation of the highly esteemed Domaine Robert Chevillon. The wines are true standouts in the Nuits, structured, refined, energetic with great precision and length. Each cru is true to its provenance, expressing individual characters linking to its terroir. Blessed with many 1er crus, the Domaine is also producing a textbook Nuits-St-Georges, which is masculine and powerful but with enough succulent fruit to make it approachable when young. Exceptional wines here in 2022. The typicité of each cru, however, remains very distinct.

(N) Domaine Henri Gouges, Nuits St Georges

A family that oscillates constantly between tradition in one hand, and openness to its era and a vision of future on the other. 1920 marked the beginning of the Gouges' history and in 1940, Marcel and Michel Gouges, decided to replant the old vineyard to ensure the future. Vines are approximately 50 years old and are cultivated organically. Pierre and Christian attended to modernise the wine production techniques and were the first ones to follow the path of a sustainable viticulture with nothing but quality. Located exclusively in Nuits Saint Georges at the heart of the Côte d'Or, the vineyard of the estate extends nowadays on nearly 14 hectares, exploiting 10 parcels of AOC, a unique heritage, a living mosaic. Among these appellations are 7 Premiers Crus (1 white and 6 red) and a family monopole: the 'Clos des Porrets Saint Georges'. Production volume is related to the climatic conditions each season, and growing methods focus on quality and respect of the terroirs at the expense of quantity. Winemaking is made with gravity and extraction through infusion. The "décuvage", followed by a light pressing and a sedimentation in tuns, lead to ageing in oak barrels during 10 to 18 months, with 10% to 30% of new barrels in a view to sublimate the terroir. The fair, straight, intense, steady, and vertical wines they provide are what made the reputation of the Gouges estate, from which they now portray as fine, silky, and soft, whilst retaining definitive stamina with the capacity for long-keeping wines.

Tucked away in the village of Pernand Vergelesses at the northern end of the Côte de Beaune, behind the hill of Corton, Vincent Rapet is producing consistently high quality Burgundy. This long established, family-run 20 hectare domaine fashions wines that are contemporary, authentic expressions of their origins. Vincent is a young talent who, alongside his wife Sylvette, brings more attention to the appellation. We have selected 4 wines with which to launch our collaboration with Vincent. A fresh, elegant Pernand Vergelesses Blanc 'Devant les Cloux', a more focused, refined Pernand Vergelesses Blanc 'Les Combottes' and a superbly built, tightly wound Corton Charlemagne Grand Cru. ## Domaine de Bellene, Beaune

"From the start, Nicky Potel's range of wines was impressive, both for its breadth – he seemed to have a knack for securing parcels which had eluded his peers – and for its high quality. [...] well-coloured, full without being sturdy, rich and succulent, pure and elegant."
Clive Coates MW, The Wines of Burgundy

Nicolas Potel established Domaine de Bellene in 2005 after the purchase of various old vine plots in some of the best sites in Burgundy. A dynamic and highly talented winemaker, Nicolas originally cut his teeth at Domaine de La Pousse d'Or in Volnay, which at the time was run by his father Gérard Potel. The Domaine de Bellene vines are situated in selected villages from Santenay in the south to Nuits St Georges and Vosne Romanée in the north. All vines are between 50 to 110 years old and are cultivated with biodynamic methods. The winemaking is low interventionist with nothing other than small doses of sulphur, added to the wines.

"The range is modest, but quality is very high."
Clive Coates MW, The Wines of Burgundy

Destined to be a mason like his father and his brother, Christophe decided to leave the family business and go into the wine industry. After receiving his diploma, he started his domaine in 1996 by renting a few acres of vines. Overtime he gradually purchased and rented further vines in and around Saint Romain and beyond, so that his domaine covered 7 hectares. He moved into a new chai in Beaune in 1999, renovating it in 2005. He has now relinquished the management of his vineyards (en fermage) to Alex Gambal (whilst also working with Alex as a partner and consultant). He will continue to concentrate on working as a tiny micro-négociant in his own right, but still with specialist focus and expertise in the Saint Romain appellation. The 2015s show the benefit of his skills and experience, alongside the excellence of the vintage.

Allen Meadows, Burghound.com April 2012

Created at the beginning of the 16th century and still family owned and run, this highly regarded 10 hectare Domaine owns vineyards exclusively in the village of Pommard. Since 1996 the winemaking has been carried out by Yves Confuron (of Domaine Confuron-Cotetidot, in Vosne Romanée) and the wines have definitely stepped up a gear in quality. It is the combination of old vines, great plots, low yields and a restrained use of new oak, which make De Courcel's Pommards the truly exceptional wines they are today. ## Domaine du Pavillon, Pommard

This fine 18 hectares estate in Pommard is entirely owned by the increasingly highly regarded Maison Albert Bichot. Respectful of the environment and diligent in both vineyard and cellar, under the instruction of winemaker Dominique Bon, the domaine has fashioned a selection of impressive 2014s including a refined, seamlessly balanced Meursault 1<sup>er</sup> Cru 'Les Charmes'.

Domaine Nicolas Rossignol, Volnay

"Truly stunning wines"

Allen Meadows, Burghound.com April 2012

Nicolas Rossignol's domaine extends to more than 20 hectares and nearly 30 different cuvées! The evolution of the last 6 or 7 years has been spectacular: Nicolas is now producing individual wines that respect their origin, but have the purity and precision of the best of great modern Burgundies. This is a remarkable achievement in view of the multitude of wines produced at the estate. His wines are now housed in his brand new cuverie on the edge of Beaune, in which he can vinify each cru by terroir and by parcel.

Henri Boillot, Meursault

"[Henri Boillot] has become, in my view, the best small négociant in Burgundy for white wines."

Allen Meadows, Burghound.com July 2009

Henri Boillot is a benchmark Côte de Beaune producer renowned for the exceptional quality of his wines. Using parcels of vines, which cover 19 hectares across the appellation with some vines more than 60 years old, his seriously impressive wines exhibit an intense minerality, elegant structure and have the potential to age for many years.

Domaine Patrick Javillier, Meursault

"[Patrick Javillier] makes splendid wines and wines which last well."

Clive Coates MW, The Wines of Burgundy

One of Meursault's best growers, the ever thoughtful, precisely spoken Patrick Javillier runs his 9 hectare family-owned Domaine based in Meursault with discreet diligence, however, it is increasingly his daughter, Marion, now taking the leading role who sensitively orchestrates the renowned delicacy and refinement found here. Great believers in vinifying parcels separately, all with long ageing on the lees, ensures essential future development of the wines. A deft touch of new oak on certain cuvées only adds to cautious and sensitive winemaking, with most of the wines taken out of barrel after a year, then matured further in tank on their fine lees.

Jean-Philippe Fichet, Meursault

"Excellent, well-defined whites from this ambitious producer"

Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com January 2018

Surely one of the hardest working producers in Burgundy, the truly hands on 'salt of the earth' Jean-Philippe Fichet manages manicured vineyards which produce superb quality fruit. With decades of experience, Jean-Philippe is making classic but refined white Burgundies with great terroir definition resulting in many well-deserved accolades for these truly exceptional wines. Having tried and tested, finely tuning his skills for over 30 years in the vineyards and winery, results in wines as close to perfection as you could hope. His wines show excellent balance between fine fruit ripeness and concentration yet with telling vibrancy, minerality, energy and true precision.

Domaine Philippe Bouzereau, Meursault

Philippe Bouzereau is the 9th generation of a family of vine-growers in Meursault. Following on from his father he took responsibility for the management of this fine 18 hectare Domaine back in 2006, helped by his brother Charles. With the well-being of the vineyards at heart, his team practice minimum intervention to enable the vines to develop naturally and healthily. His emblematic wine is the 1.7ha monopole Meursault 'Vieux Clos du Château de Cîteaux', produced from a single parcel of vines planted by his father. Philippe cultivates a huge diversity of vineyard plots, from Aloxe-Corton in the north to Chassagne-Montrachet in the south, providing a multitude of small parcels with which to compose the 'mosaic' of his production. Using modest levels of new oak, refraining from 'batonnage' completely, he prefers to let the wine's natural richness and flavour shine through.

Domaine Hubert Lamy, Saint Aubin

"Olivier Lamy has been one of my go-to producers for a number of years."

Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate December 2014

Olivier Lamy is one of the brightest stars in the Côte de Beaune, following in the footsteps of his father Hubert Lamy by joining him at the family Domaine in 1995. Sadly, Hubert passed away in October 2022 and will be sorely missed. The fine quality of his wines has helped to enhance dramatically the standing of Saint Aubin, where it can now be mentioned in the same breath as its more celebrated neighbouring appellations of Chassagne-Montrachet and Puligny-Montrachet. Driven and hardworking, Olivier is one of the first to understand that most of the work has to be done in the vineyard. The signature racy styling with great acidity and length remains to the fore, always punching well above their weight. They will age well due to their fine balance. The reds offer deep, ripe yet well-manicured tannins with good bright, fresh red fruit character alongside.

(N) Olivier Leflaive, Puligny Montrachet

Domaine Olivier Leflaive is one of Burgundy's most recognisable names with a history that dates back to the early 18th century, when Claude Leflaive became a vigneron in Puligny-Montrachet, however, it wasn't until 200 years later that it truly commenced to shape itself into the significant operation it is today, when Olivier's grandfather inherited 2 hectares of vines back in 1905. Both a Wine Producer and a Négociant, the estate uses a combination of vineyard fruit which it owns, and fruit sourced from some of the region's most prized sites. The phylloxera crisis of the late 19th century opened up the opportunities to buy parcels one could only dream of today, which were widespread hence Joseph (Olivier's Grandfather) took full advantage of the situation, which has since proved to be some lucrative purchases indeed. Following the 1st World War, Olivier's grandfather, Joseph Leflaive proceeded to enlarge the estate, becoming a family-run operation encompassing some 35 hectares. The Domaine vinifies and ages the equivalent of 120 hectares of vines (including 17 of its own), the majority of which are white wines from the three prestigious Côte de Beaune villages of Puligny-Montrachet, Chassagne-Montrachet and Meursault, as well as from Chablis and the Côte Chalonnaise. The daily mission is to produce top quality grapes. This involves a sustainable approach to working the vines, and also supporting partner winegrowers in cultivating their plots using an organic or biodynamic approach. There is currently no organic certification as the Domaine will not hesitate to use chemical treatment only if necessary.

Domaine Marc Morey, Chassagne Montrachet

"It is always a pleasure to meet with winemaker Sabine Morey in the village of Chassagne-Montrachet. The daughter of Bernard Morey, she has been working at the domaine since 2003. I noticed her Young Winemaker of the Year award still standing in the tasting room, testifying her as one of the most respected vignerons"-----
----- Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate December 2017

Son-in-Law to Marc Morey, Bernard Mollard successfully held the reins of this family-owned 9 hectares estate for a number of years before his talented daughter, Sabine Mollard, took clear drive and force with the wines. Located in the upper tier of Chassagne village the traditional cellars lay tucked below the old family house and courtyard. Her steady, very reliable winemaking expertise continues to evolve with even greater consistency year after year despite the vagaries of climatic change. Her wines are energised, super refined, layered and textural with great precision!

"Blain's white wines, like those of the rest of the family, concentrate on the finesse and the fruit and are delicate for Chassagnes. But they are all more attractive as a result. This is a fine source."----- Clive Coates MW, The Wines of Burgundy

The quietly spoken, charming Jean-Marc Blain married to Claudine (daughter of the late Jacques Gagnard), fashions Chassagne crus of delicacy and finesse. They a pure terroir, savoury lined and precise wines which seduce the palate with their elegance and subtlety, rather than weight and richness. There's an aura of patience enforced here, wines which are cerebral with an almost Chablis-esque essence which command a degree of consideration when enjoying. With Jean-Marc nearing retirement he is gradually handing parcels of vineyard's over to his son, Marc-Antoine Blain, so keep a sharp radar out for new wines to come.

"Pauline Genot poured us the wines – a very engaging young woman who delights in explaining Bruno's philosophy. The wines are generally crisp and sleek with immediate appeal."----- Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com January 2018

Following training at the Beaune Viticultural School, Bruno started to work with his parents and brother in 1993 at the family Domaine Michel Colin-Deleger. In 2003, the mutual decision was taken to divide the family Domaine into three separate entities: Domaine Michel Colin-Deleger, Domaine Philippe Colin and Domaine Bruno Colin. Bruno produced his first vintage in 2004. The Domaine currently covers 8.75 hectares under vine in Chassagne-Montrachet, Puligny-Montrachet, Saint- Aubin, Santenay and Dézize-lès-Maranges. Bruno strives to produce wines that are taught and precise, offering a pure and simple expression of each terroir. With 22 appellations including eight 1er Cru whites in Chassagne, Bruno seeks to reflect the unique personality of each cru. Sustainable methods are in place to protect the vineyards and control yields as part of the Domaine's quality measures. All wines are vinified in the same way to reflect the differences between the various parcels. Wines are aged for 12 months in French oak barrels, of which 25% are new. They are then racked and blended in stainless steel vats for 3 to 6 months prior to bottling. The white wines are frank, with great aromatic purity and remarkable balance, with minerality and liveliness supporting richness in the mouth.

Thomas Morey, Chassagne Montrachet

"Thomas Morey is one of Bernard Morey's sons (Vincent is the other [...]) that has taken his share of his father's vines to farm on his own. The split occurred in 2006 but was effective with the 2007 vintage. He has added to that inheritance and now oversees 13 ha, two-thirds of which produces whites and has an impressive 8 different Chassagne 1ers plus the prestigious Puligny 1er of La Truffière"
Allen Meadows, Burghound.com June 2015

The rigorously talented Thomas Morey, younger son of Bernard, has set up his cellar in the old family house in Chassagne-Montrachet. Diligent, serious, a hardworking perfectionist, he has renovated the winery into a very clean and organised operative. He works the 9 hectares diligently and skilfully, having already established himself as one of the stars of the appellation. His style is different from that of his father, proving to be more linear and tauter with more initial restraint which is closer to the modern idiom of fine white Burgundy.

Domaine Justin Girardin, Santenay

Domaine Justin Girardin is very much a family affair, with a winemaking heritage that stretches back to the beginning of the 19th Century. Jacques (brother of Vincent) handed over the running of the 17ha family domaine to his son Justin in 2012. Whilst not being officially certified, Justin uses many organic techniques, as he is passionate about producing wines that express terroir. The results are superbly perfumed, multi-layered wines.

(N) Domaine Bachey Legros, Santenay

The quality and style of the Bachey-Legros wines are deeply interlinked with the history of the family which spans 6 generations, as far back as the 19th century, with each successive generation of family passing on unique heritage and philosophy. Today, a new chapter is being written in the family history, where the passion of the current generation brothers, Lénaïc and Samuel Legros, diligently tend to 18 hectares of prime vineyard holdings which have expanded with each subsequent generation. Boasting an array of old vines planted between 1935 and 1955, on some of the best sites in Santenay, Chassagne-Montrachet, and Les Maranges, where the finest qualities of the Pinot Noir and Chardonnay have been lovingly tended to, decade after decade. These low yielding vines, with deeply anchored roots and concentrated fruit, provide the foundation which with loving care and hard work, produce top quality wines, exhibiting power and elegance in equal measure, imbued with a strong regional identity. The whites are gently pressed with fermentation at low temperatures and transferred to barrel on lees for 12 – 15 months with bâtonnage performed regularly until the onset of malolactic fermentation. The reds are naturally powerful, with their vinification style favouring roundness and purity of fruit, hence gentle handling and extraction are de rigueur.

(N) Domaine Philippe Chavy, Puligny Montrachet

"[Philippe Chavy] has made great progress over the past two decades and is now in the forefront of Puligny domaines." Remington Norman & Charles Taylor MW, The Great Domains of Burgundy (3rd Edition)

Philippe Chavy took over the reins of this wealthy domaine from his father in 2002 with a little more than 3 hectares of prime sited vineyards. The domaine now extends to just over 8 hectares, with some thirty individual parcels scattered throughout the neighbouring villages of Puligny Montrachet (from his father's side of the family) and Meursault (through his maternal side). Soil is worked by ploughing; there is strictly no use of herbicides or insecticides and for several years, Philippe has followed the cycles of the lunar calendar when determining work in the vineyards and cellars. His precise, floral Puligny Montrachet 'Les Corvées des Vignes' hails from vines that lie very close to neighbouring Meursault 1er Cru 'Charmes'

Domaine Ninot, Rully (O)

"Erell Ninot is responsible for her family's 12 ha domaine that is split 50/50 between reds and whites, which are naturally farmed though Ninot admits that she is not fanatical about treating with industrial preparations "when it is absolutely necessary". She professes to search for elegance above all else but enjoys overt fruit and the pleasure of drinking wines that are pleasurable to drink...."----- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com October 2009

Erell Ninot and her brother elaborate typical Côte Chalonnaise wines with a modern touch. After taking over the small 5 hectares Domaine from her father, Erell has gradually increased the vineyards to 13 hectares and his now seconded by her younger brother Flavien. She has previously won the Trophée de Jeune Talent, Burgundy's best young winemaker award. Erell practices organic viticulture and winemaking protocol but chooses not to be officially certified, allowing her to craft consistently high quality wines in the rather fickle local Rully terroir. Rigorous manual vineyard work, low yields and respect for the soil, vine and nature propel this fine domaine straight in to the top echelon of Chalonnaise producers. The delicately oaked whites are subtle but ripe with enough natural acidity. The reds are plump with poised Pinot fruit and soft tannins.

Domaine De Suremain, Mercurey

Domaine de Suremain comprises 18 hectares of vines spread across some of Mercurey's finest appellations. The property has been in the same family for seven generations and is currently run by Yves Suremain, his wife Marie-Hélène and their son Loïc. Vineyards are situated on the high-slopes and mid-slopes facing to the south and east, in the heart of the appellation. These holdings include no less than 6 different red Mercurey including five 1er Crus. They also produce one white Mercurey from the 1er Cru 'En Sazenay'. In all vineyard work the family philosophy is to respect nature, following a "lutte raisonnée" approach, adapting their work and treatments to vintage climatic conditions. Harvest is gathered by hand into small crates before being carefully sorted on 'une table de tri'. Fermentations are carried out in open oak cives of 50-100hl, cru by cru. Sensitively judged égrappage & pigeage are applied depending on the cru and the vintage. Wines are then matured in French oak barriques (10-15% new) for 14-18 months.

(N) Domaine Sébastien Giroux, Pouilly Fuissé (O)

Domaine Sébastien Giroux is a relatively new up-and-coming wine producer in the Mâconnais, with 7 hectares of vines in and around Fuissé. The family vineyards have been in the hands of Giroux family for almost three centuries. In 2009, Sébastien succeeded his father with taking over management of the domain. Since then, Sébastien has made a number of changes: The winery now works 100% organically with miniscule amounts of additives used in the wine making process. Harvesting is done by hand, but not everything has been renewed: the oldest source for their Pouilly-Fuissé Vieilles Vignes comes from vines up to 80 years old, vines which have lasted several generations.

Vinification takes place traditionally with as little interference as possible; a natural, long and cool fermentation followed by storage in stainless steel tanks. Sébastien does not want to exaggerate and cover the wine's natural flavours unnecessarily, the wines must be elegant and as true to their terroir as possible. Sébastien bottles only when he feels his wines are ready. In the cellar, he likes to take his time with very long maturations, of up to 30 months, which is rare for this region.

Stéphane Aviron, La Chapelle de Guinchay

Stephane Aviron set up his negociant business with his close friend from the viticultural school Lycée Vinicole in Beaune, Nicola Potel. Originally starting out as a bottling business for some of Beaujolais' top producers, he used his contacts to start making his own wines in their cellars whilst adopting Burgundian methods.

Managing single vineyard 'cru' sites with very old vines, instructing the vigneron of each site to apply his demanding standards of environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach, with yields as low as 25 hl/ha and élevage in barrique of up to 10 months, Stéphane endeavoured to produce Beaujolais reminiscent of the great vintages from the 1930s and 40s. In 1999 he produced his first vintage aged in 100% new oak barrels.

Although all his wines are labelled under his name, they are all usually Domaine wines as the grapes are harvested, vinified and bottled at the estate. The Domaine de la Madière is produced at his ex-wife's family's vineyard just under the Church of La Madonne at the top of the hill of Fleurie.

Domaine Georges Descombes, Morgon

"Georges Descombes is one of the stalwarts of Beaujolais."----- Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate June 2014

Georges Descombes is one of the pillars of the Beaujolais appellation. His wines are serious, but also give a lot of immediate pleasure. Like his great friend Jean Foillard and mentor, the late Marcel Lapiere, he likes minimal intervention and lets the granite terroir of his 15.5 hectares of vineyards lead the way. Beautifully juicy but with good backbone, his wines can be enjoyed early and will also age for several years.

(N) Domaine Eric Thill, Trenal, Côtes du Jura (O)

Eric and Bérengère Thill live in the village of Trenal, close to the commune of Gevingey where their vines are planted. They settled in Jura a decade ago seeking opportunities to grow and make wine that were unattainable to them in Eric's native Alsace. The pair began making wine in 2009 with just 2.8ha of grapes (their holdings have since grown to 7ha) Growing traditional Jura grape varieties including Chardonnay, Savagnin, Pinot Noir and Poulsard; it was certified organic by Ecocert in 2015.

The vineyards are on a variety of different soil types from Bajocien limestone to the fabled grey, red and blue marl. Though the vineyards that Eric and Bérengère work with have always been farmed organically, everything is harvested by hand with pesticides and sulphur used only minimally. Due to the low yield per ha, the wines are concentrated. The cool fermentation preserves the fruitiness and the long yeast storage gives the wines the necessary stability for long bottle ageing.

(N) Domaine Adrien Berlioz, Chignin (B)

Located at the foothills of the Bauges massif, and bordering neighbouring Switzerland and Valle d'Aosta in Italy, the organically farmed vineyards of Domaine Adrien Berlioz in the Savoie region are as picturesque as you might imagine. Adrien took over the family vineyards in 2006, two hectares located near a small village called Chignin at 390m above sea level. With plenty of hard work alongside the pursuit of purity and a certified biodynamic approach to farming, he has grown the vineyard to 5 hectares, transforming it into one of the region's most prestigious domaines.

Its vineyard is characterized first of all by an extreme slope (sometimes 50% declination), on a soil of hard rock and limestone. The grape varieties are typical of Savoie: Jacquère, Altesse, Malvasia, Bergeron (roussanne), Mondeuse and Persian, all grown without chemical inputs. In the cellar, Adrien vinifies the wines without sulphur and uses different vessels. The results are evident in the incredible mineral drive, intensity and purity of these wines, sure to leave a lasting impression of just how good Savoie wines can be!

François Villard, St-Michel-sur-Rhône, Condrieu (O)

"The wines have immediate flair and lots of life in them. The winemaking is modern, with new oak a constant feature. Villard has been restraining himself on the cellar techniques in the last two or three vintages, and the wines sit more comfortably in the glass as a result."
John Livingstone-Learmonth, DrinkRhône.com 2017

François' empire keeps growing, but he still keeps a tight reign on the operations, whilst being open to sharing his knowledge and passion for his region. The recent winery above St-Michel-sur-Rhône, that seemed so large a few years ago, is now bursting with vats and barrels, but the quality remains. The wines are often seen on the tables of most of the best restaurants around the world.

Stéphane Ogier, Ampuis

"A highly progressive domaine, in the hands of enthusiastic, switched-on Stéphane Ogier"
John Livingstone-Learmonth, DrinkRhône.com 2017

From 14 hectares of vineyards, Stéphane Ogier's wines express the style and quality that has made the Northern Rhône in increasingly high demand. His classic Viognier has minerality, with rich, almost exotic white fruit and a freshness conveying judicious use of oak. The reds display attractive smoky aromas, juicy fruit and meatiness - trademarks of classic Northern Rhône. The Côte Rôtie 'Réserve' is a blend of several terroirs and has incredible complexity and length.

Domaine Jocelyne & Yves Lafoy, Ampuis

"Unpretentious wines, no jazzy modernism. The style is tight, compact. The Côte Rozier is serious wine, and continuing to improve, while the Prélude (called JYL until 2015) has also stepped up a gear. In 2017 the Lafoys split out the 1934 Syrah on Côte Blonde (wine used to go into the Côte Rozier) to make a wine of that name..."
John Livingstone-Learmonth, DrinkRhône.com 2018

Three generations of the family have worked this vineyard in Ampuis at the heart of the Côte-Rôtie. The estate was founded in 1993 by Jocelyne and Yves Lafoy, who cobbled together vines from their respective in-laws to follow in Jocelyne's father's footsteps on the Côte Brune in Côte-Rôtie. Since 2012, the winemaking has been the chief responsibility of their son Gaëtan. Gaëtan was formally trained at a viticulture and oenology school in Mâcon, France and spent a few months at the Plumpton Agricultural College in Sussex in the United Kingdom. Following this, he trained with an internship under Jean-Michel Gérin in Côte-Rôtie. The vineyards are worked by hand (often on steep terraces) with little mechanisation, and the winemaking style is traditional producing ageworthy, structured and elegant wines.

"Outward-looking and motivated, Maxime Grailot is a good receiver of his father's baton. He is determined to make wine in his own style, emphasizing elegance. This is likely to become well-known and fashionable wine."
John Livingstone-Learmonth, DrinkRhône.com 2017

With Christian, our Director, having worked with Alain Grailot for a short period at the beginning of his career, we are thrilled to be distributing the wines of his son, Maxime. Maxime is in charge of Alain's domaine and has added a small 6.5ha holding in Crozes, Domaine des Lises, to the portfolio. He also manages several other vineyards in Comas, St Joseph and Crozes, selecting tiny parcels of the very best grapes to make the Equis range. They are made in the same vein as his father's wines - the Equinox is a modern interpretation of Crozes for early drinking, whilst the Crozes Lises and St Joseph ignite in flavour after a year or two in bottle.

Pierre Gaillard, Malleval, Saint Joseph

"...sound, cleanly made wines from a progressive domaine in the northern sector of St-Joseph. Elegance comes through and they can be followed by lovers of stylish fruit with an oak topping." ----- John Livingstone-Learmonth, DrinkRhône.com 2017

Pierre Gaillard continues to produce some of the most stunning wines from his 25ha domaine near Malleval. Handling the Viognier, Roussanne, Marsanne and Syrah with the same gifted care, he offers a very fine and wide range of wines. We are only importing a limited selection from his superlative collection. When he is not busy in the Northern Rhône, he is helping his daughters, Jeanne in Crozes Hermitage and Elise in Banyuls, whilst even finding time to run a small estate in Faugères.

Domaine Gramenon & Maxime-François Laurent, Montbrison-sur-Lez (O)

"I taste a lot of wines, and it's not all that often that I'm blown away by a producer's range, but this happened here."

Jamie Goode, wineanorak.com April 2007

Founded in 1976 by Philippe Laurent and Michèle Aubéry-Laurent, Domaine Gramenon lies in the heart of the Drôme Provençale in Montbrison sur Lez surrounded by 25 hectares of vines and olive groves. The vineyards are planted on a limestone plateau, 300m above sea level, which brings a purity and freshness to the wines. Unfortunately, Philippe passed away as a result of an accident in 1999, so Michèle was joined by her son Maxime-François. Together they aim to keep the identity of each plot of land, which gives birth to their 'cuvées'. Maxime-François has also created a small wine merchant business in partnership with a neighbouring vigneron, whose vineyards are certified organic. He issues and labels his cuvées under his own name.

"Top flight Cairannes, both red and white, from an old village family. The red Cairannes such as La Jean de Verde age and live extremely well. The domaine is mostly organic." ----- John Livingstone-Learmonth, DrinkRhône.com 2017

Denis Alary's wines are benchmark Southern Rhône: full of sun and a joy to drink. Spicy, rich and peppery with warm juicy fruit, his wines are always extremely appealing and a great representation of this region. While Grenache makes up the majority of the vines planted on his 29 hectares of vineyards, he has an old plot of Syrah and uses it judiciously in the cuvée 'L'Estévenas'. Despite increasing fame and demand, these wines remain great value.

Wine passionate, Jean-Etienne, Denis's son, has naturally integrated at the estate since 2016, after a journey in Australia and in New-Zealand. Together, they ensure the management, marketing, including sales directly from the cellar, vinification and viticulture. Driven by Jean-Etienne, they are all now moving towards biodynamics.

"In my view, no estate has made more qualitative gains in the past 3-4 years than Bosquet des Papes [...] If you're looking for the next superstar producer in Châteauneuf du Pape, here you go!" Jeb Dunnuck, The Wine Advocate October 2014

A few years ago, this traditional 32ha estate had a new lease of life when son Nicolas Boiron took over from his father Maurice. Both men are built like rugby forwards and the wines have a tendency to be like them; therefore, it is advisable to keep them for a little while before drinking.

Domaine Grand Veneur, Châteauneuf du Pape (O)

"This sensational estate consistently produces some of the top whites of the appellation (in addition to the reds), and they've done well in 2015."

Jeb Dunnuck, The Wine Advocate October 2016

Christophe and Sébastien Jaume have now taken over from their father Alain and have carefully expanded the domaine. The range is exceptional and equally superb in white as in red. 'La Fontaine' is consistently one of the best white Châteauneuf and 'Les Origines' delivers the appropriate class for a premium cuvée with many international accolades. There is no weak wine here and the well-priced Côtes du Rhône is produced from a vineyard situated only meters away from the famous Château Beaucastel.

Château de la Font du Loup, Châteauneuf du Pape

"I've always loved the wines of this estate, which is run by Anne Charlotte Melia-Bachas. Located on cooler, sandy, north-facing slopes, these wines are never blockbuster yet shine for their elegance, finesse, and purity. They also age beautifully."

Jeb Dunnuck 2019

After her father left for Morocco to pursue a new challenge, Anne-Charlotte Mélià took control of the vineyard where she is exploring natural techniques, along with undertaking a complete renovation of the cellar. The future looks bright for her, especially due to her desire to utilise the ancient vines contained within her parcels. The vineyard of Font du Loup (Fountain of the Wolf) is located on the north side of the famous plateau, La Crau. The two lieux-dits, "La Font du Loup" and "La Crau" are in the commune of Courthézon. La Crau is divided between two communes, Courthézon and Bedarrides, but all of Anne-Charlotte's plots are in the northern most part of Courthézon. The Font du Loup area is altogether different in soil, given that it is nearly pure sand, furthermore it is also a north facing and one of the highest altitudes within Châteauneuf-du-Pape, thus contributing to it being one of the coolest climates in the appellation.

This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

"Under the helm of Bruno Gaspard (with help from Philippe Cambie), Domaine du Clos du Caillou continues to make some of the most profound, layered and sexy wines of this sun-drenched appellation."

Jeb Dunnuck, The Wine Advocate October 2015

Sylvie Vacheron, helped by the gifted Bruno Gaspard, is producing rich and very expressive Châteauneuf du Pape cuvées. The quality of the estate's wines has greatly progressed over the past couple of decades and are often recognised as one of the best in the appellation. The unsung hero in Le Clos du Caillou's portfolio is the 'Bouquet des Garrigues': with a feel and style of Châteauneuf du Pape, it is not a straightforward Côtes du Rhône by any means.

Domaine de la Vieille Julienne, Châteauneuf du Pape (O)

"Jean-Paul Daumen directs this fine estate with utmost care. Thanks to remarkable work in the vineyards and a natural approach in the cellar, he produces wonderfully expressive, classic wines of great elegance."

La Revue du Vin de France 2012

Despite our already large portfolio of Châteauneuf estates, we did not hesitate when we had the opportunity to add Jean-Paul Daumen's wines to our offering. These are very serious wines with a class coveted by many other producers. With 10 hectares of vines at the very northern part of Châteauneuf du Pape and 5 hectares of Côtes du Rhône on the Lieu Dit Clavin, they are never the blockbusters produced by so many during the past decade, Vieille Julienne wines are completely unique and this is why they are so sought after!

"I've yet to see these guys put a foot wrong, and regardless of the vintage, they're able to make superb wines."

Jeb Dunnuck, The Wine Advocate October 2014

The Delorme family meticulously runs one of the most successful domaines in the Southern Rhône, La Mordorée. Very sadly, Christophe passed away unexpectedly in 2015. His dynamism and drive will be sorely missed, but his wife, daughter and team continue to further refine the quality of wine that derives from their 40 hectares of vines, as, like many, they believe that the best wines are made in the vineyard. Every wine receives the same care be it the simplest Côtes du Rhône or the top Châteauneuf du Pape. Despite success and multiple awards, the prices remain very reasonable.

Domaine Santa Duc, Gigondas (B)

"Straightforward and wise, Yves Gras is however one of the key figures of Gigondas. When he took over the Estate in 1985, he focused on producing wine with exemplary depth. Santa Duc vineyard is perfectly tended and meticulously maintained"

Antoine Pétrus, Bettane & Desseauve Guide des Vins 2016

Yves Gras is one of the strongest personalities in the Southern Rhône region; he is also very generous and has helped many young wine producers to improve their techniques & establish themselves within the market. Since 2006, he has slightly softened his style by shortening the time of cuvaison and using different cooling methods in order to reduce some of the austerity that was previously characteristic of his wines. They still have plenty of local character & huge personality, but are certainly a little more approachable now in their youth. His son Benjamin has been in charge of the latest vintages; the results from the 23 hectares of vines are truly exceptional & have received great recognition from the press.

"One of the leading estates in the up-and-coming Ventoux appellation is unquestionably Sebastien Vincenti and Manou Barthelemy's Domaine de Fondreche."

Jeb Dunnuck, The Wine Advocate December 2016

Sébastien Vincenti of Domaine de Fondrèche is widely recognised as one of the two best producers in Ventoux and to make things even better, he keeps a reasonable pricing policy despite his ever-increasing reputation and growing international demand. His wines from his 38ha domaine are very polished and seductive, yet he always aims to improve his technique. Sébastien is moving to organic culture and uses specific canopy management in order to produce ripe rich wines, with an overall harmony being the key.

Château de Roquefort, Roquefort-la-Bédoule, Côtes de Provence (B)

"[Raimond de Villeneuve] makes dark brambly reds that explode with life and are wonderfully perfumed and wild with garrigue. His rosé, Corail, pale, fresh, and elegant, has been one of my favourites for several years."

Tamlyn Currin, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com July 2013

The Château de Roquefort is ideally located in the Côtes de Provence appellation area, with vineyards at an altitude of 350m and old vines averaging more than 35 years. Margaux Gentile, who worked with Raimond de Villeneuve for many years and was his right hand for all work in the vineyard and cellar has now taken over. Already, with the 2022 vintage, Margaux has taken charge of the harvest, carried out the vinification and produced fresh and precise wines with a real sense of personality and unique style. Following biodynamic methods for many years, she captures all the sun and scents of Provence, whilst still managing to achieve elegance and subtlety. As she says herself, Raimond passed on to her his Château-Roquefort fever!

David Williams, The Observer October 2014

Stéphane Bourret and his team have improved La Bastide wines' quality beyond recognition. Despite the pressure of the many tourists ready to buy almost anything at any price, he has chosen a path of quality and hard work. All of the 28 hectares estate is now run using biodynamic methods and the results are a joy to behold, with many of their wines awarded great accolades in the national and international wine press. ## Grange des Rocs, Montagnac, Pays d'Oc

Languedoc is the source of many great wines, as well as some very mediocre. Grange des Rocs is our own label, comprising two special cuvées. Both are blends of the best local grapes selected by us to reflect H2Vin's house style and ethos. Winemaker Claude Serra is highly respected in the Languedoc, acting as a consultant for several estates, as well as producing wine at his own domaine. We work closely with Claude to produce these wines, which display the region's character, whilst also delivering great value.

Domaine de la Provenquière is located in the heart of the Languedoc with a history dating back to the 15th century. Brigitte and Claude Robert are now at the helm, producing wines from the estate's 150ha with vines planted on clay-calcareous soils. Their great attention to detail means that these fresh, vibrant wines are crammed with a mass of savoury ripe fruit and offer great value for the quality.

Domaine de Cabrials, Béziers, Pays d'Oc

The Domaine de Cabrials takes its name from the nearby brook Cabrials. It is based in a castle located on the hills of an ancient terroir of clay and chalk, to the east of Béziers, close to the Mediterranean seaside.

The Julien family, 5 generations of vine-growers and wine producers, have run the estate since the 90's. Current owner and wine maker, Bernard Julien renewed and developed Cabrials's vineyard, covering about 60 hectares with various varieties including Chardonnay, Sauvignon, Syrah, Pinot Noir allowing him to produce high-quality wines. His vine-growing methods follow the High Environmental Value (HVE) agriculture's recommendations. The wines are vinified with the greatest care, in order to preserve the aromas' freshness, meaning the red wines here are excellent, very rich and concentrated, offering natural potential allowing long aging.

Domaine Gaujal, Pinet

Owning 30 hectares of vines close to the Étang de Thau, this long established family-run domaine (since 1744), can claim six generations of accumulated 'savoir-faire'. Combining the family wisdom with the cooling effect of the nearby étang (a coastal saltwater lagoon), proximity to the city of Montpellier (famous for its oyster farms) and modern temperature-controlled vinification, brings a wonderful freshness to the wines. Of the total vineyard holdings, Domaine Gaujal is selected from 12 hectares of Picpoul, farmed using traditional methods. The vines of Picpoul Blanc have an average age of 45 years, and are grown on soils containing a mix of 54% pure limestone, the rest being calcareous clay. The name Picpoul derives from the French "Picque", meaning sharp, and poul, meaning lips, translating as "lip stinger".

Domaine Madeloc, Collioure, Banyuls-Sur-Mer, Roussillon

"Made by Pierre Gaillard, this estate consistently produces solid, enjoyable reds that are a joy to drink."----- Jeb Dunnuck, The Wine Advocate April 2015

Madeloc is Pierre Gaillard's estate in Collioure, supervised by his daughter Elise. The domaine is a real paradise with some of the vineyards ending directly at the edge of the Mediterranean. With a high concentration of granite and schist soil across the 29 hectares estate, the wines have a high level of minerality with subtle iodine notes. The white is a blend of Grenache Gris, Vermentino and Roussanne, with a short stint in oak barrels. The red and fortified wines are Grenache based with additions of Mourvèdre and Syrah.

(N) Château Fonsalade, Causses-et-Veyran, Coteaux du Languedoc

Château Fonsalade has been at the heart of the Languedoc for almost 130 years. The Barbe family acquired the Fonsalade property in 2014. A family of entrepreneurs for several generations, they let themselves be tempted by a wine adventure with passion and enthusiasm. The 32 hectares of vineyards within the Saint-Chinian and Roquebrun appellations afford all the advantages of the two types of soils present in the region. Thanks to a quality terroir with a beautiful mosaic, a cool altitude climate and know-how, all monitored by consultant oenologist Claude Gros, Château Fonsalade is recognized as one of the best wine producers in the Languedoc.

Jeb Dunnuck, The Wine Advocate April 2015

Jean Paux Rosset and his team, with the help of consultant Claude Gros, have worked tirelessly to make sure that their wines are the very best of the appellation. The beautiful vineyards, a stone's throw from the Mediterranean, receive the best viticultural care in order to ensure healthy grapes; this helps the team to pick extremely late if required, especially the Mourvèdre. The range is extremely consistent, with the 'Brise Marine' displaying notes of white stone fruit and iodine, while the reds have ripe tannins and great intensity without being heavy.

La Revue du Vin de France June 2012

Jean Gardiès owns top vineyards on the chalky-clay soils of Vingrau and the black schist of Espira de l'Agly above Perpignan. One of the great French producers, he is quietly making wines representing his identity and interpretation of his terroir. ## Stéphane Derenoncourt

"It is fashionable nowadays for winemakers to talk of putting terroir into the bottle but the instinctive Derenoncourt is more convincing than most that he actually does it."

Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com May 2004

Stéphane Derenoncourt began working in the vineyard at the age of 19, becoming proficient in all aspects of vine work. When he became the cellar master at Château Pavie-Macquin, he was able to put his vine knowledge to use by making exceptional wines. Now working as a consultant for many leading properties, he continues with great sensitivity and a belief in the sacrosanct nature of wines to evoke their terroir and individuality. Stéphane's consultant venture 'Derenoncourt Consultants' embodies a new generation of consultancy in viticulture & winemaking. His philosophy is that there is no such thing as a "petit vin". With a broad palette of clients, a lot of investment & hard work, he is able to showcase many lesser-known terroirs, producing exceptional wines. Stéphane's personal property, Domaine de l'A, is a 10 hectares estate planted to Merlot (80%) & Cabernet Franc (20%) at Sainte-Colombe to the east of St. Emilion in the Côtes de Castillon.

"Véronique Cochran is an inspiring, charming winegrower, and the inspiration for farming Falfas biodynamically came from her father, Francois Bouchet, who was the pioneer of biodynamic wine growing back in the 1960s."

Jamie Goode, wineanorak.com October 2016

With 20 hectares of vineyards planted on rolling hillsides of Bayon in the Côtes de Bourg, Château Falfas has a winemaking heritage that dates back to the 14th century. The Château was in fact one of the very first in Bordeaux to practise organic and biodynamic methods. Today Château Falfas is owned by Véronique and John Cochran, who are building on the traditions of the past with a very simple philosophy: the best wines are not "made" but rather "grown". They remain passionate about practising biodynamic principles to extract the very essence of the terroir, producing authentic, rich and generous wines.

François Thienpont

The Thienpont heritage is impressive: Vieux Château Certan and Le Pin in Pomerol, Puygueraud, Lauriol and Les Charmes Godard in the Côtes de Bordeaux. In 2001, François Thienpont set out to create a family of wines that expressed the truth of the terroir and 'Terra Burdigala' was born. Wines were to be produced with absolute respect for the soil and the environment. From vine to bottling, all aspects of the creation of each wine were to be fully within the control of François and his team. Each wine hails from meticulously selected vineyards and each parcel of vines is tended individually. Natural yeasts are welcome; chemical fertilisers are banned! The end results are wines of authenticity and great value.

Eliau Da Ros, Cocumont, Côtes du Marmandais

"[The Côtes du Marmandais] tootled along on the fringes of everything vinous until Eliau Da Ros arrived back there and took over his family's vines, inspired by stints working for Zind Humbrecht in Alsace and at Grange des Pères in the Languedoc and determined to make the best possible wine."

Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com March 2005

It was in 1998 that Eliau Da Ros, a good friend of Nady Foucault, returned to the Côtes du Marmandais to take over the running of his father's 5ha vineyard, having spent 5 years working at the iconic Domaine Zind-Humbrecht in Alsace. Since then, Eliau no longer delivers the grapes to the local coop and has ensured that Marmandais is properly on the quality wine map, due to his hard work and determination. Today, Eliau is regarded as a pioneer for the region, raising the flag for wines of distinction. Following in his footsteps, a small band of independent vigneronns in the appellation now produce and bottle wine under their own estate labels. This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

Les Jardins de Babylone, Aubertin, Jurançon

"[...] the nobly-concentrated Dagueneau Jurançons – of which I tasted a 2005 and 2004 – are magnificent, with superb detail, magical levity, as well as irresistibility rather than over-the-top sweetness. "The idea is to have a balance with high acidity, not a confiture," remarks Benjamin Dagueneau. "Chateau d'Yquem is very good, but heavy. These wines aim at something a little more Germanic in style." I was already grinning before he said this!"

David Schildknecht, The Wine Advocate August 2010

Didier Dagueneau was regarded as one of the greatest winemakers in the Loire and his son Louis-Benjamin is continuing his legacy after Didier's untimely death. Didier's love of dessert wines led him to search outside of the Loire for an under-the-radar region, where he could produce world-class sweet wines. His search led him to a spectacular amphitheatre of terraced vineyards lying at the foot of the Pyrénées, just south of Pau in Jurançon, South West France, inspiring him to call the wines 'Babylone'. Made in minute quantities, the resulting wines, both dry and sweet, are stunning and the talented Dagueneau family's hallmark of quality shines through.

This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

La Revue du Vin de France

Jean Marc Grussaute is producing some of the most sought after Jurançons at his 11ha Camin Larredya. The dry wines are precise, powerful, but fresh and perfectly balanced. The sweet wines also display the same liveliness and precision; the residual sweetness is always in harmony with the crisp, balancing acidity.

(N) Chateau Ponzac, Carnac-Rouffiac, Cahors (O)

The history of the estate takes its roots in the 14th century. On the strength of Molinié family heritage, in 1998, having obtained his diploma in viticulture & oenology, Matthieu Molinié took over the family estate. His partner Virginie obtained the same diploma and joined him 2 years later. Today their estate covers 28 hectares of vineyards in the Cahors appellation, with vines that are on average 25 years old.

The estate brings together all the great veins of the Cadurcien terroirs: limestone-marly plateaus, clay-limestone plateaus, siderolithic red clays, first, second and third valley terraces, clays with rolled pebbles. The mode of management of the vineyard in organic conversion is part of a strong conviction: the development of the individuality of each terroir. Cahors benefits from a dual climate: Oceanic until the month of June, it gently morphs to a Mediterranean climate in July, thus ensuring perfect balance between acidity and maturity in the vineyard.

Jean Stodden, Rech, Ahr

"One of the most serious stars in the Ahr Valley" ----- Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com November 2011

The Stodden family has been involved in winemaking in the Ahr Valley since 1578. Today Alexander Stodden is responsible for producing some of the greatest and most distinctive Pinot Noir's in Germany. Quality is the key to production: pruning is carried out both in winter and spring, with a green harvest in summer. All the grapes are handpicked and undergo selection within both the vineyards and cellar. The slate soils offer the wines a specific flavour profile, with a defining pithy edge. If Pinot Noir was grown in Savennières, it would probably taste like this.

Weingut Schnaitmann, Fellbach, Württemberg

According to church records, the first of 19 generations of Schnaitmanns (and Schnaitfraus) likely travelled from the Styria region of what is now Austria to Fellbach around 600 years ago. There has been an unbroken line of grape growers in the family ever since. And yet for all that grand tradition in the Rems Valley, it wasn't until 1997 that Rainer Schnaitmann started to make his own wines. Based in the Württemberg their sites encompass a wide range of soils dating back 200 to 250 million years to the Triassic Period. The spectrum runs from light, warming, fossil-rich reed sandstone and pebble sandstone to the heavy clay soils of the Trossingen Formation ('Knollenmergel'); from red, iron-rich colored marl to the ever-present gypsum keuper, which promotes wines with an especially spicy character. Their vines thrive in these many terroirs created from diverse positions, elevations of the vineyards, slopes, and topographical peculiarities. In the cellar they actively pursue a hands-off approach, looking to have as little external influence as possible. Extended maceration for the white wines and gentle extraction for the red wines, spontaneous fermentation, and only minimal sulphur and filtration. They give the wines the time and space they need to reach their full potential.

Weingut Rudolf Fürst, Bürgstadt am Main, Franconia

In the westernmost corner of the Franconian wine region, framed by the low mountain ranges of Spessart and Odenwald, the Fürst Family have been making wine since 1638. In 1979, Paul and Monika Fürst built the new estate amidst the vineyards and in 2007 they were joined in its management by their son Sebastian.

Facing due south and overlooking the picturesque towns of Miltenberg and Bürgstadt, the slopes of the Centgrafenberg are home to most of the vines. The Pinots and Rieslings especially love the warm and iron-rich soils formed by the weathering of red sandstone. The quality and structure of the wines is ensured by minimal intervention in the vineyards, reduced yields, gentle vinification and long barrel aging. Frühburgunder (also known as Pinot Madeleine) is an old variety, autochthonous (what does this mean) to this region, which yields full bodied wines and has attracted more and more attention over the last years. The product line is rounded off by typically dry Franconian style wines from Riesling, Weißburgunder (Pinot Blanc) and Silvaner. They are proud of the appreciation their wines have gained as ideal companions for fine meals in the best restaurants in Germany and abroad. For the Fürsts and their viticulturist Sebastian Schür the vineyards are the biggest asset in the production of high quality wines. Whether it's the high density of planting, best rootstocks and scions, low trellises, optimal humus content, plant protection and selective picking, all aspects are regarded as equally essential and from pruning to picking all the most important work in the vineyards is done by hand.

(N) Weingut Gunderloch, Nackenheim, Rheinhessen (O)

One hundred and thirty years after its founding, the story at Gunderloch, one of the Rheinhessen's most revered estates, is evolving. The changes happening here are cause for real excitement, and all of them are springing from the restless mind of Johannes Hasselbach, the master and commander of the estate since 2016. He is taking Gunderloch in a new direction, and the resulting wines are achieving levels of grace, balance, and natural energy never seen before.

Gunderloch is a thriving estate of approximately twenty-five hectares of vines in some of the top vineyards of the "Roter Hang" ("red slope") area in the Rheinhessen appellation. In Nackenheim they own the dominant portion of the Grand Cru 'Rothenberg' (sixty-five percent of the estate's holdings) which is planted completely to Riesling. Their Grosses Gewächs (GG) from here is the flagship of the estate; their noble sweets from the site are legendary. The other part of their production comes from five kilometres down the road in Nierstein, where they work steep parcels of vineyards whose names resound to the ears of German wine lovers: Niersteiner 'Pettenthal' and Niersteiner 'Hipping', which both provide GG wines for them. The average yield is held to forty-five hectolitres per hectare, among the lowest in Germany, resulting in wines of high extraction and great quality. Minimum ripeness for the various quality levels is significantly above the requirements of the German wine law. The wines are never de-acidified and in high acid vintages bottling is often delayed allowing the wines to harmonise and soften. The cellar work is accomplished with a minimum amount of handling, experimental whilst slowly changing as Johannes pursues his explorations in winemaking.

(N) Weingut Karthäuserhof, Trier, Mosel

The vineyards of Eitelsbach, named after a nearby tributary of the Ruwer, were first mentioned in writings circa 1223. Over a hundred years later, in 1335, Prince-Elector Balduin of Luxembourg gifted an estate on the land to the monks of the Carthusian order. The monks founded it as an official winegrowing estate and cultivated wine for almost 500 years, but since 1811, the Karthäuserhof has been passed down from generation to generation within a single family. The current owner, Albert Behler, represents the seventh generation of the Leonardy / Rautenstrauch / Tyrell / Behler family to uphold the stellar international reputation of the Karthäuserhof, which it has held for the past 200 years.

The reason for the exceptional quality of the wines from the Karthäuserhof is its legendary Karthäuserhofberg vineyards; its unique terroir produces wines with character and maturity potential. The Verband deutscher Prädikatsweingüter (VDP), i.e. the Association of German Quality Wine Estates, classifies the Karthäuserhofberg as a "VDP.GROSSE LAGE", thereby designating it as one of the outstanding quality German vineyards. This classification is reserved for vineyards from which the best German wines offering complex taste, expressive vineyard character and particular maturity potential originate.

Allram, Straß im Straßertale, Kamptal

Situated in the heart of the Kamptal, in the beautiful village of Straß im Straßertale, Allram is a 23ha family-run estate, which is now under the stewardship of 4th generation Michaela Haas-Allram, together with her husband Erich Haas. Viticulture here is as natural as possible, as Michaela and Erich believe this is important to show the great potential of the local terroir. This philosophy, combined with their in-depth knowledge of their prime vineyard sites, results in superb expressions of each grape variety and it is no surprise that Allram is now recognised as one of the best wineries in the region, as well as Lower Austria.

Tegernseerhof, Dürnstein, Wachau

"This producer pulls no punches."

Jancis Robinson, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com February 2006

Tegernseerhof has a history that dates back over 1,000 years, with 25 hectares of vineyards located on the finest slopes of the picturesque Wachau region in Austria, formed by the meandering Danube River. Today the estate is owned and run by Martin Mittelbach, whose family have been managing Tegernseerhof for 5 generations. Inspired by ancient winemaking traditions, Martin is passionate about producing the finest expressions of vineyard and grape variety, whether Grüner Veltliner or Riesling, each wine has its own unique personality.

(N) Artisan Wine, Halbtorn, Burgenland

The 'Artisan' name derives from 'artigiano,' based on the Latin 'artire' meaning to 'instruct in the arts.' Franz Schneider has a wide range of experience, from being university trained in Oenology with a Master's in Quality Viticulture and Marketing, whilst also gathering experience at the Research Centre in Geisenheim (Germany), with stages at Luciano Sandrone (Barolo, Italy) and Klein Constantia in South Africa.

Sustainable viticulture is Artisan Wine's strategic approach to optimising premium grape quality. The work in the cellars combines traditional with modern methods. An integral piece of their philosophy is vineyard control in terms of pests and beneficial organisms. Within integrated cultivation of the vineyards, they apply a combined mix of biological, mechanical and low chemical actions. Due to this mixture their intervention in the environment is minimised with CO2 output being lowered. They produce expressive wines which define the true taste of their terroirs. The work in the cellar is also a combination of traditional and modern methods: white wines are pressed gently and fermented temperature-controlled to ensure optimal forming of aromas, with further maturing in stainless steel and Hungarian Tonneaux barrels; red wines are fermented in traditional open vats with several daily punch-downs by hand; further maturing occurs in big acacia barrels (2000L) and Hungarian Tonneaux.

Disznókő, Mad, Tokaj

"Needless to say, this was a strong set of Tokaji wines.[...] Disznoko is and always will be focused upon sweet 5- and 6-Puttonyos aszu wines."

Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate December 2013

A First Growth since 1732 and part of the World Heritage Site of Tokaj declared in 2002, the 104 hectares of Disznókő vineyards have always been sought-after due to their supreme quality. Once owned by influential aristocratic families and then nationalised, the estate has been under the ownership of AXA Millésimes since 2002. With its expertise and experience in Aszú winemaking, Disznókő is recognized today as being in the forefront of the renaissance of these truly great Tokaji wines.

La Farra, Conegliano-Valdobbiadene, Veneto

With Innocente and Guido Nardi at the helm, La Farra is a family-run estate located in the heart of Conegliano-Valdobbiadene DOCG, the region that produces the finest Proseccos. Innocente's and Guido's philosophy is to produce top class wines from top quality grapes, hand-harvested from their own vineyards. Their Prosecco Valdobbiadene Superiore DOCG Brut is a superb result of this philosophy: elegant with great intensity and individual character.

Martocchia di Brunelli Luca, Montalcino, Martocchia, Tuscany

In 1964, the Brunelli family bought a small farm comprising some 3 hectares of vines in Martocchia, on the edge of Montalcino. In 1988, Mauro and his son Luca purchased a further parcel of land, so that now the estate totals 15 hectares, of which 5 hectares are classified as Brunello di Montalcino DOCG. The vineyards are located on the southwest side of Montalcino at an average altitude of 250m, ensuring that the wines express as much fragrance as possible. Luca encourages low yields in order to focus on quality and authenticity.

(N) Azienda Agricola Monte Zovo, Caprino Veronese, Località Zovo, Veneto

The Monte Zovo range is produced from across 140 hectares of family-owned vineyards to express the principal denominations of the Verona area - Valpolicella, Garda and Lugana – with their origins in the Valpolicella Classico area near Fumane. Diego Cottini is the principal winemaker, backed in Valpolicella by renowned consultant Riccardo Cotarella. They now own 50 hectares on the Tregnano hillside, home to some fine Amarone-producing vineyards (including the prized 12-hectare Zovolo plot) with the best orientation and suitable elevation. Diego is convinced of the importance of altitude for the production of high quality grapes; all the vineyards are between 450 – 600 metres above sea level.

(N) Broccardo, Monforte d'Alba, Cuneo, Piedmont

Broccardo is a family-run winery located in Monforte d'Alba and managed today by Filippo, Laura and Federica Broccardo. They decided to collect everything that has been handed down from their parents, grandparents and great-grandparents: a great sense of appreciation for the land and the use of vineyard work techniques that always respect the land. The vinification process is focused on the purity of each wine, preserving the fruity sensations, without altering the features of the wines.

The vineyards are located in three of the most popular areas of the Langhe suited to the production of Barolo wine: Monforte d'Alba, Barolo and Novello. Vineyards cover about 7 acres facing south and southwest. The composition of the soil and where the vines are planted, is characterized by clay, tuff, sand and silt left by the withdrawal of the Padano Sea around 16 million years ago: the alternation of these layers gives these wines excellent finesse, structure and elegance. The wine cellar is located in Monforte d'Alba, which from 2014 is recognised as a Unesco patrimony.

(N) Marabino, Noto, Sicily (O)

Situated in the south-east of Sicily in the heart of the Noto Valley (on a latitude south of Tunis), Marabino own 30 hectares of vineyards on low hills, enjoying a generally mild microclimate until Summer with average temperatures reaching some of the highest on the island, tempered by proximity to the sea. The soil is predominantly calcareous clay, the altitude varies between 30 and 80 metres above sea level, and high-density planting on slopes allows maximum exposure whilst harnessing the cooling prevailing winds of the region. As a result consistently well-ripened grapes can be selected and harvested by hand, and then fermented spontaneously with indigenous yeasts. The young team at Marabino's mission is to work in harmony with Mother Nature, to produce wines that are free from synthetic chemicals from the vineyard to the cellar to capture a true expression of the Noto Valley.

Ramon Canals, Castellvi de Rosanes, Penedès (O)

Ramon Canals was founded by Miquel Canals Ollé, whose family links to vine growing and production in Penedès dating back as far as 1903. In 1975, Miquel Canals Ollé and his son Ramon Canals Llaверol, an oenologist by profession, pooled their resources and decided to produce their first bottled wine and cava. The climate here is mild Mediterranean, with average annual rainfall of 465-515 litres per square metre. Soils are calcareous clay. Grapes are hand-harvested in September. Today their children, Ramon and Marta Canals, are ready to drive the company forward, while maintaining traditional winemaking practices. The experience of three generations dedicated exclusively to the quality and integrity of their wines is now producing cavas with distinct finesse and complexity. The cultural heritage is clearly evident in their own museum, housing more than 4,500 exhibits related to vine cultivation and the production of wine and cava. Nowadays, this family-run company produces wine in four different wine regions: DO Penedès, DO Cava, DOQ Priorat and DO Montsant.

Castell d'Encús, Costers del Segre, Tarn, Catalunya

"Raül Bobet keeps producing superb wines high in the Pyrenees in the Costers del Segre appellation [...] It's always a pleasure to taste these intellectual refreshing wines."

Luis Gutiérrez, The Wine Advocate June 2015

Castell d'Encús is a very exciting project from Raül Bobet, following his time with Torres. In 2001, whilst searching for land in the foothills of the Catalan Pyrenees, Raül discovered a stunning estate at almost 1,000m above sea level, dating back to the 12th century.

Farming organically, he chose to plant 23 hectares of high density Riesling, Pinot Noir, Albariño, Sauvignon, Sémillon, Syrah and most of the classic Bordeaux grapes varieties. Inspired by his discovery of 9 medieval rock fermenters in the vineyards, Raül restored them back into working order and now ferments several wines in them, embedded in the rocky hillsides. The results are amazing: high natural acidity, superb length and mouth feel, with both reds and whites receiving a great deal of critical praise.

Ferrer-Bobet, Priorat, Porrera, Catalunya

"It's always rewarding to taste the Cariñena-based reds from Ferrer Bobet."

Luis Gutiérrez, The Wine Advocate June 2015

Planted with some of the oldest Cariñena vines in Priorat on exclusively black schist soils, known locally as "llicorella", Ferrer Bobet's 15 hectares of dramatically steep and terraced vineyards are organically managed, as well as being located in some of the highest and coolest hills of the region. Winemaker Raül Bobet is driven by a passion to make distinctive wines, which are unique expressions of Priorat's terroir, characterised by their ultra silky tannins and refreshing acidity. His hard work and dedication have resulted in Ferrer Bobet being regarded as one of the most successful new wineries in Spain.

Bodegas Monfil is situated in the northeast of Spain on the Ebro River, where the grape varieties Garnacha and Tempranillo are the speciality. Their vineyards cover approximately 22 hectares, over a myriad of different microclimates, due to soil variation, altitude variation and orientation differences. Still owned and run by the Matéo family, the business was originally established in 1943 but they did not bottle their own wine until the early 2000's. Now run by siblings Maria, Víctor and Ana, the bodega produces excellent wines that offer great value, especially due to the wonderful old vine Garnacha fruit exuberance!

Bodegas Ostatu enjoys a prime position in Samaniego, in the heart of the famous Alavesa Basque region. María Asun Sáenz de Samaniego and her family run the 34 hectares estate. Winemaker Iñigo Sáenz de Samaniego (her brother) uses a mix of modern methods and French oak barrels to exploit the full potential of their superb vineyards, many planted with vines over 50 years of age. The result is a collection of precise wines with a great sense of terroir and well-preserved fruit.

Gregorio Martínez, Nalda, La Rioja Alta

"Gregorio Martínez started his Rioja project in 1998, and somehow, he has been flying under the radar, because his wines are little known and deserve more attention...." Luis Gutiérrez, The Wine Advocate February 2018

The current winery was constructed in time for the 2001 vintage, with grapes sourced from a 120 hectare estate, 40 hectares of which are under vine. Located in the Iregua Valley, between the villages of Nalda, Sorzano & Entrena. The founder of the project was Gregorio Martínez, who started to purchase land around Sorzano, his wife's hometown, in the late 1970's/early 1980's. Currently managed by his descendants, the project changed dramatically following the appointment of head winemaker Ricardo Cantera back in 2009.

A recently introduced range, Finca Gregorio Martínez, includes a clean, vibrant white Viura; a vibrant, pale-coloured rosé made from Tempranillo; a Mazuelo aged in oak for 8 months; plus two single-varietal reds crafted from Tempranillo and Mazuelo respectively. Rather unusually, the malolactic fermentation takes place in the same tank with skins, resulting in wines that exude a natural freshness.

Bodegas Antídoto Bertrand Sourdais, Ribera del Duero, Castilla y León

"[...] the wines from Bertrand Sourdais from Sourdais y Hernando and Dominio de ES, two young projects that have had a short but very positive evolution." Luis Gutiérrez, The Wine Advocate March 2017

After being Dominio de Atauta's winemaker for several years and establishing the bodegas to the highest level, Bertrand Sourdais has returned to his native Loire region to take over the family property. However, his love and passion for the Ribera del Duero is still intact and he's created Antídoto, a new, toned down version of Dominio de Atauta, sourced from 7 hectares of ancient vineyards, which are at least 60 years old (many date back to pre-phyllloxera!).

Bodegas Carmelo Rodero, Pedrosa de Duero, Ribera del Duero, Castilla y León

Carmelo Rodero belongs to an ancient line of wine producers in the Ribera town of Pedrosa de Duero. From the time he was an adolescent, he began to invest his first earnings in new vine plantings, building up a considerable holding, even selling grapes from his then 50 hectares of vineyards to the legendary Vega Sicilia winery for 14 years. It was in 1990 that he embarked on his own project with his wife Elena. Today, a new generation has followed with daughters Beatriz and María who have joined the winery.

Specific weather conditions characterise this part of the Ribera, where Atlantic and continental influences come together with warm, dry summers and long, harsh winters, leading to dramatic temperature fluctuations. Carmelo knows intimately every inch of his 140 hectares of vineyards here, his holdings divided into different terroirs in order to exploit the distinct types of loam perfectly. On average, the vines are now more than 30 years old, combining younger vinestocks with those that are more than 100 years of age. Their vineyards lie at elevations ranging from 750m in the valleys to 900m in the hills. The soils are mostly clay and chalk combined with pebbles, silts and sands.

In the winery, Carmelo and his two daughters take the greatest care of the grapes simply using gravity. Techniques include 100% destemmed grapes, thorough control of the maceration and fermentation temperature, malolactic fermentation in stainless steel tanks, ageing mostly in French oak (only a very small percentage of American oak is employed at the bodega) followed by a minimum bottle ageing of 3 months before release.

Bodegas Félix Lorenzo Cachazo, Pozaldez, Valladolid, Rueda, Castilla y León

One of the eight producers who originally created the DO Rueda back in 1980, the bodega dates as far back as 1946, though the family has been growing vines in the area for five generations. The work of Félix Lorenzo Cachazo continues today with his children Eduardo (sales manager) and Ángela (winemaker). Located in Pozaldez (Valladolid), they own 35 hectares of vineyards, including 9 hectares of pre-phyllloxera vines, destined for their barrel-fermented Verdejo.

The characteristic soils in the DO Rueda are stony with limestone, allowing good drainage. The significant difference in temperature between day and night (sometimes up to 20°C) means that Rueda benefits from a slower ripening process and a more aromatic expression of the Verdejo grape.

The large oak vats that were historically used to store the wine in underground cellars have almost disappeared, in order to make way for modern equipment. As an original producer in the Rueda región, Félix continues to pave the way by producing a vibrant modern expression of the region, whilst steering away from the traditional, oxidative styles of the past.

Bodegas Cobertizo, Valtuille de Abajo, Bierzo, Castilla y León

El Bierzo is a natural region located in the northwest of the Spanish province of León. A set of small valleys in this mountainous area offer a variety of orientations and gradients, whilst a wide flat depression called "El Bajo Bierzo" provides less challenging viticultural terrain. The region has a special microclimate, very suitable to the successful cultivation of Mencía. Toni Quiroga decided to start his adventure in wine some 20 years ago, when he started working in his father's vineyards in Valtuille de Abajo. Almost 22 hectares are the base of this family bodega, where Toni crafts a range of expressive wines that demonstrate clearly his love for his lands and his family roots. All wines from Bodegas Cobertizo are certified organic, with extremely low use of sulphites, far lower than European ecological standard limits. Viticulture is sustainable and Toni's practice of leaving vegetation cover between rows helps to bring balance to the soil. His red wines are produced with old vine Mencía (60 years old) and his white wines with old vine Godello (50 yearsold). Old, steep vineyards such as these cannot be tended by machines, so all viticultural work is carried out by hand.

Fragas do Lecer, Monterrei, Galicia

Produced by talented local winemaker José Manuel Martínez (also oenologist of Quinta de Couselo), Fraga do Corvo (Woods of the Crows) exudes the true character of carefully tended, manually harvested Godello grapes grown on slopes of decomposed granite in Monterrei, North West Spain. Now at least 20 years old, these vines yield a fruit quality that reflects precisely this very particular 'terroir'. Fraga do Corvo's Godello is meticulously vinified under strict temperature control, before ageing on its lees for 7 months in order to gain added richness and mid-palate texture.

José Gonzalez and his brother Javier have worked hard to restore the extinct vineyards of the Avia Valley in Ribeiro. Respecting age-old traditional winemaking techniques and using indigenous grape varieties, Treixadura, Godello, Albariño and Loureira, the brothers, together with winemaker José Manuel Martínez Juste, have produced an exceptional white wine, which truly expresses this magnificent terroir, from a little over 12 hectares of steeply terraced vines.

Bodegas Gutiérrez de la Vega, Parcent, Alicante

In 1982, Felipe and Pilar moved into an old Almazara (olive mill) in the secluded village of Parcent, finding more space to work, along with greater accessibility to the diverse range of vineyard sites throughout their region. Currently the family farms 10 hectares of organically certified head-pruned vines around La Marina Alta, as well as inland in the Sierra de Salinas mountains. The earthy soils, high elevations, and proximity to the ocean allow the grapes to fully ripen while maintaining very good acidity. The grape varieties are as varied as the climate; Moscatel originates from the lower lying areas close to the ocean whilst Monastrell makes its home in the ungrafted sandy soils of the Sierra de Salinas mountains. Violeta, Felipe and Pilar's talented winemaker daughter, is gradually taking over the reins from her parents. Their approach has always been artisan; natural yeasts are employed for fermentation and no other products are used in the winery except for judicious amounts of sulphur. Soleras are maintained for their highly acclaimed noble sweet wines and, based on the direction of Felipe, there will be a bottling periodically with an age designation.

"Bruno Murciano is a Spanish sommelier who works in London. Contrary to all odds, instead of investing in a flat in London, he decided to buy a Bobal vineyard in his homeland in Valencia [...] they have produced a top-of-the-range red, El Sueño de Bruno a Bobal from chalky soils [...] and there will be some more wines coming soon, like a fresh and pale Malquerida rosé and perhaps a new single-plot Bobal red from sandy soils."

Luis Gutiérrez, The Wine Advocate February 2015

Bruno Murciano, one of the UK's most well regarded Spanish sommeliers, with more than 16 years of international experience, is pursuing a lifelong dream to produce a range of wines made from Bobal in his native homeland of Utiel-Requena. Bruno, together with his brother Jose Luís, who looks after the viticulture and winemaking with the initial help of David Sampedro (one of Rioja Alavesa's 5th generation of vine growers from an extremely talented winemaking family) have combined their joint experience and passion to produce an amazing range of Artisan family wines from high altitude 7 hectares of organically grown vineyards above 900m. Bruno and Jose Luís use artisanal methods and biodynamic techniques, with very little intervention in the cellar, whilst following the lunar biodynamic calendar to achieve the very best results.

This estate follows environmentally conscientious philosophies, with discipline and rigour aimed at a low-interventionist approach.

Bodegas La Cigarrera is a small, family-owned bodega in Sanlúcar de Barrameda, founded in 1758. The current bodega was purchased in 1891 by the great grandfather of the Hidalgo Garcia de Velasco brothers who run the firm today. The name of the bodega owes its origins to the women who used to sell cigarettes on the streets, on behalf of the big cigarette factories in Cadiz and Seville. Due to historical regulations of the Consejo Regulador, the company originally operated as an "almacenista", a stock-keeper who sells their wines to bigger shipping bodegas (e.g. Lustau). In 1998, after the regulations had changed, they started to bottle their own wines for the first time. The company still uses the original bodegas in the Plaza Madre de Dios in the Barrio Bajo (lower part) of Sanlúcar, which hold a total of around 500 casks (including some of the oldest in town). The "cathedral" cellars of La Cigarrera consist of three naves (Bodega de Colóm, Bodega de Cabral and Bodega de Samilla) that surround a beautiful central Andalusian patio. Grapes are sourced in part from family owned vineyards and the remainder purchased from trusted and locally managed vineyard farmers with a view to sourcing 100% of grapes from family owned vineyards in the near future.

González-Byass, Jerez de la Frontera, Andalucía

Luis Gutiérrez, The Wine Advocate August 2013

González-Byass is one of the most iconic estates in Jerez, producing some of the region's finest wines for over 175 years. We are thrilled to offer a handpicked selection of their rarest and oldest sherries. Named after the palma chalk used by winemaker Antonio Flores and the cellar masters to mark a wine's maturity, the 'Palmas' range is fuller bodied and intensely aromatic. Matured in oak casks for a minimum of 30 years, their Rare Old Solera Sherries are a true expression of some of the world's finest and rarest wines.

Quinta do Noval, Cima Corgo, Douro

"I really love wines from this estate." ----- Victoria Moore, The Telegraph October 2016

Lying in the heart of the Douro Valley in Northern Portugal, Quinta do Noval has been producing some of the world's most highly sought after vintage ports since 1715. Winemaker Christian Seely has dreamed for years of making top quality, unfortified red wines, which express the unique terroir of Noval's steep sloping vineyards. He has finally achieved his dream, one example of which is the excellent Cedro do Noval.

Maçanita Vinhos, Peso da Régua, Douro

The Maçanita Vinhos project was created by characterful siblings, Joana and António Maçanita, in the Douro back in 2011. Having worked together in over 14 wineries around the country, they wanted the new project to reflect their experiences and aspirations: lots of laughter, lots of arguments and an ethos of questioning the existing way of doing things. Over the intervening years, Maçanita Vinhos have managed to encompass the diversity of the terroir of the Douro Valley in its purest and most faithful form. The wines of Maçanita express each facet of this spectacular landscape: the "high-altitude Douro", the "hot schist Douro", the "cold granite Douro" all through indigenous grape varieties from old vines and a non-interventionist approach.

Domaine Chatzivaritis, Kilkis, Goumenissa (O)

Domaine Chatzivaritis is an 18-hectare estate in Goumenissa, focusing on traditional Greek varieties (Xinomavro, Negoska, Roditis, Malagousia, Muscat and Assyrtiko). Daughter Chloi took over from parents Vagelis and Olga in 2017, having studied oenology in France and Portugal (and worked in Chile and New Zealand), bringing with her passion and experience for low intervention wines and new wine making techniques. The estate now follows environmentally conscious philosophies, aimed at a low-interventionist approach to obtain the best quality of grapes, while preserving soil fertility.

(N) Gavalas Winery, Santorini

Gavalas family winery, one of the oldest wineries in Santorini, lies in the traditional village of Megalochori. This stone building used to be an old canava-winery, following the traditional architecture of the ancient Thira. With respect to the local culture, the winery has retained all the original features of the winery, such as cellars, grape stomping rooms and old entrances. In addition, the family has created a modern section with high tech equipment in order to produce high quality wines.

The aim of Gavalas family is to highlight the particular characteristics of Santorini's 'terroir'. The fourth-generation winemaker is George Gavalas and the fifth is his son, Vagelis. With respect to the local varieties, they are focused on limited production bottlings. Gavalas winery vinifies the most vibrant grape variety in Greece, Assyrtiko, as well as Aidani, Mandilaria and Mavrotragano. In order to show the richness of the land, they are also the only winery in Santorini that vinifies the indigenous rare varieties of Katsano and Voudomato.

The Foundry, Voor-Paardeberg / Stellenbosch, Western Cape

"Chris does a brilliant job here, treading that fine line between flamboyance whilst avoiding blousiness. These wines are well priced and come recommended."

Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate November 2015

Established in 2000, The Foundry is the brainchild of Meerlust cellar master, Chris Williams, in partnership with his long-term friend James Reid. Working closely with a handful of growers, long-term contracts have been concluded for specific rows of vines to meet The Foundry's demand for high quality fruit which is expressive of its sourced vineyards. Grapes are vinified, bottled & matured separately at Meerlust Estate in Stellenbosch, taking great care not to over-extract or manipulate the fruit. Both traditional and modern techniques are used. Since 2010 The Foundry has had a new home in the Voor-Paardeberg area. Their intention is to eventually locate all of their winemaking activities in the Paardeberg, but they will still continue to produce the single vineyard Stellenbosch Syrah and Viognier.

Botanica, Devon Valley, Stellenbosch, Western Cape

Located in Devon Valley, Stellenbosch, American-born Ginny Povall is a self-taught winemaker who is a rising star within the South African wine scene. With the aim of using minimally invasive winemaking techniques to produce wines that express their vineyards' origins, Ginny is currently sourcing her grapes from local respected growers whilst she waits for her own vines to mature. The Chenin Blanc grapes come from 50 year old bush vines on the arid Skurfberg Mountain, 40km from the Atlantic and just shy of 500m altitude. The Pinot Noir is sourced from grapes grown on the Paul Cluver farm in Elgin, accounting for just 300 cases. These exquisitely labelled wines, carrying 18th century British artist, Mary Delany's botanical cut-paper collages, are extremely elegant and well deserve their award-winning status.

"I adore the purity and finesse expressed by the wines, the salinity that seems to be appearing more and more on the finish, as the vines age and bestow more complex fruit" ----- Neal Martin, The Wine Advocate April 2017

This family farm was founded in the mid-1990s by Cape Wine Master, Dave Johnson and his wife, Felicity (née Newton) and within the past twenty years has built a reputation for producing some of the South Africa's finest Pinot Noir. Three Platter Five Star wines in the current guide is a fine achievement. Today it is very much their son Gordon, partnered by his wife, Nadia, who is responsible for the winemaking, whilst Bevan looks after the commercial aspects of the business. A total of 18 hectares are planted to vines. Whilst the Chardonnay and Pinot Noir have already established fine reputations, the two Syrah-based wines can also claim to be highly regarded. ## Nuy Winery, Worcester, Breede River Valley

"Very impressed by this affordable sweet wine from South Africa. It's remarkable value for money."----- Jamie Goode, wineanorak.com November 2013

Nuy (pronounced Nay) Muscadell is a Cape classic, although barely known outside of South Africa. Winning acclaim with every vintage, it is a sweet and ridiculously inexpensive fortified dessert wine, delicious on release, but also with great potential for ageing. Muscadell (Afrikaans spelling) is the local name for both Muscat de Frontignan and Muscat Blanc à Petit Grains. The production method involves mulching the grapes and allowing the juice to remain in contact with the skins for 36 to 48 hours. After separation, the skins are pressed and then the must is fortified to around 16.5% alcohol. Very little, if any, fermentation takes place. It can be served chilled or at room temperature for older examples. The wine is extremely durable on opening, remaining fresh for many weeks, making it an ideal choice for restaurants wanting to offer a cracking by-the-glass pouring option.

(N) Chris Ringland, Angaston, Barossa Valley

"Chris Ringland Shiraz is an utterly gorgeous wine that not only bombards and challenges the senses but suggests a deep emotional connection between the winemaker and his vineyard landscape" Andrew Caillard MW, Langton's

Chris Ringland is undoubtedly one of the foremost winemakers in Australia today, producing Shiraz-based wines from vineyards owned personally and sites exclusively managed with several highly skilled close friends known as 'North Barossa Vintners'. He focusses on absolute purity of fruit. His skill to work with tannins with enormous fruit carrying capacity and at the same time convey a unique silky texture is evidence of his meticulous attention to detail and care. He leaves nothing to chance, even the corks for his Chris Ringland Shiraz (previously named Three Rivers Shiraz) are selected in a time-consuming procedure to identify those which are truly eligible for sealing his ultimate oeuvres, of which he does this exercise every year without fail.

Though it may appear unfashionable to make such full-bodied red wines these days, Chris likes to make wines which are guaranteed to age gracefully for several decades, evident in the fact that his wines are sought after by collectors the world over. The reputation of Chris Ringland along with the limited production and high prices have risen the brand to cult status. The flagship wine made by Chris is the 'Dry Grown Barossa Ranges Shiraz', formerly known as 'Three Rivers Shiraz'; now regarded as one of the most highly priced & prized wines made in Australia produced in miniscule quantities! Since 1995 the wine has come from an unirrigated 2-hectare (5 acre) block of very old vines in the Barossa Ranges called 'Stone Chimney Creek Vineyard'. Production of this iconic Shiraz is tiny, with approximately 1,500 bottles and 100 Magnums produced from each vintage. The Dry Grown Barossa Ranges Shiraz and other premium cuvées are offered out once per year as an En Primeur offer. Please keep a sharp eye out for when these wines are released, as the global demand is substantial!

Bethany Wines, Tanunda, Barossa Valley

The cycle of life in the Barossa vines has been turning for more than 150 years, since the Schrapel family planted their first vineyards in 1852. The family had arrived in South Australia from Silesia eight years previously and made their home in Bethany, the Barossa's first settlement.

Today with Bethany Wines being run by fifth and sixth generations of the same Schrapel family, the vines' life cycle continues in much the same way as it always has, with minimal intervention to produce the best possible vines and grapes.

"The philosophy at Bethany Wines has remained constant for more than 30 years - to produce exceptional wines that show the flavours of the family vineyards and are a natural reflection of the microclimate of the Barossa Ranges" - Geoff Schrapel.

With a strong wine industry heritage dating from 1837, the family has developed a distinguished international reputation for elegant fine wines. Leconfield wines are based on a simple philosophy – great wines are crafted from great vineyards.

Leconfield Cabernet Sauvignon has been the flagship of Leconfield since the first release in 1977. The philosophy is to produce a cabernet sauvignon displaying both depth and elegance, where oak provides complexity and enhances the fruit but is not allowed to dominate.

Clonal Brothers 'Amen Break', Kilmore, Victoria

In 1968, a little known funk and soul outfit called The Winstons recorded 'Amen Brother'. In the middle of the song, the drummer, Greg Coleman, plays a short solo, or drum break. This 6 second, 4 bar piece of drumming genius is known as The Amen Break. The Amen Break has become the most sampled drumbeat in musical history. It has been used by a huge diversity of artists and is considered the foundation rhythmic beat for much of the electronic musical genre that exploded in the late 80's and early 90's of the last century.

The Amen Break wines, set up by brothers Matt and Steve Harrop, have been making (sound) waves of their own lately.

Quarry Ridge Vineyard is planted on the site of an old bluestone quarry, 550m above sea level near Kilmore and 100km north of Melbourne in the beautiful Victorian Highlands. These vines are now nearing 30 years old and produce a small crop of concentrated fruit each year. This is a cold place, so crops must be low and farming must be exact. Picking is done when acidity, sugar and flavour are in balance.

All harvest is done by hand; the winemaking is simple but precise. Fermentation is in used French oak hogsheads. Naturally occurring vineyard yeasts conduct the fermentation and the wine matures in contact with these same yeasts for up to 12 months before bottling. No fining is used and the wine is minimally filtered.

NB: For their Pinot Noir please see the New Zealand section.

Curly Flat, Macedon Ranges, Victoria

"one of my favourite Victorian wine producers"----- Jancis Robinson MW, Purple Pages of JancisRobinson.com

Located just an hour from Melbourne, Jenifer Kolkka and Phillip Moraghan established Curly Flat in 1989, with a clear focus on vinifying world-class cool-climate Pinot Noir & Chardonnay in a modern, Burgundian vein. Now, their winemaking team, headed up by Matt Harrop, oversees 13.3 hectares of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay of multiple clones and they are widely recognised as one of Australia's best producers of Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. Since the new on-site winery was constructed in 2002 with an underground barrel hall, this has enabled low ambient temperatures and gentle fruit processing in order to fully express the vineyard terroir. Ferments with natural yeast are separated by clone and vineyard block, and whole bunch pressing and barrel fermentation is practiced for the Chardonnay.

Pinot Noir processing is focused on small separate lots with a percentage of whole clusters, whilst judicious oak use involves a range of toasts and barrels sourced from several French coopers.

Campbells, Rutherglen, Victoria

"Crafted by families who have specialised in the genre for generations, these are generous wines, lingering and intense, with great depth of flavour."
Sarah Ahmed, thewinedetective.co.uk December 2010

Originally, from St Andrews in Fife, the first of the Campbell clan arrived in Rutherglen over 140 years ago, with the intention of mining gold. When the 'Bobbie Burns' seam was exhausted, the family stayed on, turning their hands first to sheep farming before diversifying into viticulture. Today, fourth generation brothers, Colin and Malcolm Campbell, have re-established the reputation of these once legendary fortified Muscat wines. Their Rutherglen Muscat is aged in a solera system for an average of 5 years.

Awatere River by Louis Vavasour, Lower Dashwood, Marlborough

First settling in New Zealand in 1887, the Vavasour family pioneered commercial grape growing and winemaking. Drawing on over a century of their family's winemaking tradition, Peter and Anna Vavasour created the Awatere River Wine Company in 1986, by planting the first vines in the Dashwood district of Marlborough. Made in limited quantities, Awatere River by Louis Vavasour (Peter and Anna's son) is a collection of award winning, premium quality wines that reflect the distinctive terroir of the alluvial river flats on which they were grown. Opting not to trade on the family name, but to focus on everything he loves most about the region, Louis' Pinot Gris has an exceptional length, structure and complexity.

Fairhall Downs, Blenheim, Marlborough

Originally part of a 220 acre sheep farm, this 25ha vineyard in Marlborough's Brancott Valley was planted in 1982 by Ken and Jill Small and the first wines released under the Fairhall Down's brand in 1996.

The Fairhall River-Brancott Valley has its own microclimate, with even cooler evenings and even warmer days than is typical. It is not unusual for a day/night temperature variation around 20°C allowing the grapes to build brix levels during the day, yet with fruit acids being retained, due to cooler nights over the long dry autumn ripening window. Uniquely free-draining, the soil is a nutrient-rich top layer over a gravel clay base, making deep root penetration easy - perfect soil for growing grapes.

Bell Hill Vineyard, Waikari, North Canterbury

"In just a couple of decades since it was established, Bell Hill has deservedly become one of the most sought-after labels in New Zealand"
Joe Czervinski, The Wine Advocate February 2018

Bell Hill Vineyard, so named for the bell-like shape on the southern side of its hill, was established in 1997 by Marcel Giesen and Sherwyn Veldhuizen. Situated in an ancient, north-facing limestone quarry in Waikari (adjacent to Weka Pass Historic Reserve), North Canterbury, the vineyard now covers 2 hectares of high-density plantings. The Weka Pass area was previously unplanted with grapes, but Marcel and Sherwyn were drawn to the pure chalky limestone soils and calcareous clays. With a delicate touch and focus on excellence, Marcel and Sherwyn are passionate about using Burgundian techniques to craft their stunning range of Chardonnay and Pinot Noir wines. Biodynamic farming is also at the heart of their vineyard activities, as they believe it is integral to growing top quality fruit, whilst allowing for the ultimate expression of this unique terroir.

Clonal Brothers 'Amen Break', Central Otago

In 1968, a little known funk and soul outfit called The Winstons recorded 'Amen Brother'. In the middle of the song, the drummer, Greg Coleman, plays a short solo, or drum break. This 6 second, 4 bar piece of drumming genius is known as The Amen Break. The Amen Break has become the most sampled drumbeat in musical history. It has been used by a huge diversity of artists and is considered the foundation rhythmic beat for much of the electronic musical genre that exploded in the late 80's and early 90's of the last century.

The Amen Break wines, setup by brothers Matt and Steve Harrop, have been making (sound) waves of their own lately.

The Pinot Noir is sourced from the Pisa Moorings vineyard, just outside of Cromwell (near to Burn Cottage and Surveyor Thompson). All harvest is done by hand, the winemaking is respectful and considered. Natural yeasts conduct the fermentation, and a high (up to 50%) amount of whole bunches are utilised. Once dry, the wine is pressed and matured in used French hogsheads. No fining is used and the wine is bottled unfiltered.

NB: For their Chardonnay please see the Australia section.

Domaine Rewa, Pisa Range, Central Otago

"Philippa Foubet is a Francophile, and was inspired by the wines of Burgundy to own her own vineyard and make her own wine [...] She produced her own wines in 2011. Since then, the vineyard has become certified BioGro organic under the viticultural eyes of Grant Roulston and Gary Ford of Vinewise. She has engaged Pete Bartle of VinPro to make her wines, which are very well-regarded in the market and highly successful on the show circuit..."

Raymond Chan, raymondchanwinereviews.co.nz February 2018

We are thrilled to be working with Domaine Rewa, an up and coming producer from Central Otago. With a tiny 5.5ha single vineyard, nestled in the foothills of the Pisa Range on the unique fluvial terrace, owner Philippa Foubet, together with winemaker Pete Bartle, is pursuing her lifelong dream of producing refined wines from her homeland in Central Otago, inspired by the elegance of Burgundy. These superbly pure and perfumed wines are produced following a biodynamic regime in order to fashion the best possible expressions of their Central Otago terroir.

Casas del Bosque, Santa Rosa, Casablanca

Founded in 1993, Casas del Bosque was one of the first wineries to be established in the Casablanca Valley. The family-run estate covers 245 hectares of vines on the cooler, west side of the valley, planted mainly to white varieties, whilst there are a further 35 hectares in Rapel dedicated to red varieties. The hardworking winemaking team, Grant Phelps, Bridget Percy, Pilar González and Ken Bernard, combine their considerable talents to produce elegant, complex wines with a great focus on quality rather than quantity.

Bodega Tapiz, Luján de Cuyo, Mendoza

"The wines are improving from vintage to vintage."

Luis Gutiérrez, The Wine Advocate December 2016

Owned by the Ortiz family since 2013, Bodega Tapiz sources their grapes from several carefully selected, high altitude vineyards, ranging from 915m to 1,340m above sea level, located in Mendoza and Salta. Flanked by the imposing Andes mountain range, these vineyards have unique bio-climatic characteristics, producing wines which are distinctive expressions of the terroir. The estate's winemaking facilities are some of the most technologically advanced in Argentina, with quality, value and authenticity being clearly evident in the finished wines. Malbec is their standard-bearer. Their entry Malbec is sourced from two distinct sites, both in the Uco Valley. The wine matures for 8 months in 2nd and 3rd fill barrels (75% French, 25% American oak). The Malbec Reserva originates uniquely from the Finca San Pablo vineyards, located at 1,220m altitude in the Uco Valley. The wine matures for 10 months in 75% French oak and 25% American oak, both new and 2nd fill barrels.

Terms & Conditions

Ownership

All goods remain the property of adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd until payment in full has been received for the wine and any other sums owed to adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd. Until title passes, the customer will hold the wine as trustees for adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd. The wine is to be stored securely and is to be easily identifiable as wine supplied by adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd.

Lien

In circumstances where adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd holds wine on behalf of the customer, the company shall have a right of lien on such wine for any debts, claims and liabilities whatsoever for which you may from time to time be liable to the company whether or not the same is due. The company shall exercise the right of lien at its discretion by the sale of goods and will retain the proceeds towards or to meet all debts, claims and liabilities due or to become due by the customer to the company.

Payment

Payment is due on placing an order, prior to delivery, except for approved Trade credit accounts when it is due 30 days from invoice date, unless otherwise stated. For approved Trade credit accounts the 1st order must be paid proforma in advance of first delivery, thereafter our normal Trade credit account terms and conditions apply, whereby Payment is due 30 days from delivery (Net 30). Important: credit approved accounts who either exceeded their limit or have outstanding invoices, will experience delays in fulfilling their orders until due payment receipt is resolved.

H2Vin Ltd does not cover or accept any bank transaction charge fees nor does it accept 'shared' bank charge fees for any financial transactions made to the company; regardless of GBP Sterling or € Euro Sales Invoice payments made. All bank charges incurred to the client for their financial transactions to H2Vin Ltd (the recipient) must be covered in full by the Payer, that being the customer addressed to within each Invoice, not by H2Vin Ltd. Any such bank transaction charges incurred to H2Vin Ltd will result in a financial Invoice being raised back to the Payer of the original transaction. For any unpaid Invoices / costs incurred to H2Vin Ltd, your pre-paid wine(s) may be sold to cover these surcharges.

Prices

All prices are per case (case size specified for each line) on the left column (£ Case) and per bottle on the right column (£ Bottle), Duty Paid inclusive of VAT unless stated otherwise.

We aim to maintain our prices throughout each 12 month trading period, however, we reserve the right to review our prices whenever pricing increases are enforced outside our control; via 3rd party freight forwarders, UK Logistics, Producers, GB Sterling international exchange rate(s) and UK Chancellor duty tax / Vat increases. Unless otherwise agreed by the Company in writing, the price of the goods shall be the price set out in the Company's price list published at the date of order.

Packaging

We are serious about protecting our planet and take an environmentally conscientious approach towards everything we do at adVINture. To minimise impact on the environment wine(s) ordered in 'mixed cases' will be delivered in appropriately sized 're-used' cardboard boxes. Wines which are ordered in full cases will be delivered in their original packaging unless stated otherwise. If any original case packaging within the warehouse becomes damaged during handling or throughout its storage, then these stocks will be re-packed into 're-used' boxes.

Deliveries

Delivery is free of charge within the M25 for all orders of a value of £100 or more (including VAT). Separate quotes can be given for deliveries outside the M25, South, North and West of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. Delivery(s) made by our courier requires a 3 hour time window for delivery. Please ensure to leave a mobile number with your order. Our 3rd Party courier service provider will then be able to text message you their estimated delivery time(s) schedule for your order, on the designated day for delivery.

Due to the nature of our products being alcohol, for security reasons, all orders Must be received physically and signed over for in full at point of confirmed delivery day schedule. If re-delivery has to be rescheduled due to failure to physically receive and sign over for your order a re-delivery surcharge may need to be applied (at cost), with a separate payment required in advance before the courier can accept re-delivery services being made. If there will be no-one at home, work or other nominated delivery location to accept the delivery, your order will be left as per your alternative instruction. Please use the 'Delivery Instructions' field at checkout to do this.

Please note, we cannot be held liable for goods once delivered if orders are not received physically and signed over for in full at point of delivery with the courier.

Claims/Risk

All wine shall be at the buyer's risk from the point of delivery to the buyer. Upon receipt, you must examine the wine delivered and must sign to confirm receipt on the delivery note provided. Shortages, damages or errors must be noted on the proof of delivery note along with notifying adVINture immediately at the time of delivery (up to 24 hours) to enable us to support your claim. Please note the later you leave it the less likely a resolve with 3rd party logistics support. You must also retain such wine and packaging, making it available for inspection and collection by adVINture. Please note that claims made outside of these terms and conditions cannot be guaranteed, as insurance may not cover.

Following delivery, client storage areas must be within the minimum grounds of correct temperature control, humidity and hygiene. Our Producers/ Insurance will only guarantee credit assistance cover on faulty wines (TCA/Oxidisation) whilst in our own registered and data calibrated (via telemetry) temperature-controlled storage facilities at London City Bond; thereafter no other 3rd party facilities will be covered, based on unregulated cellar hygiene/ poorly stored/ non calibrated temperature-controlled facilities. You must notify adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd immediately at the time of discovering a faulty bottle (up to 24 hours), with a full explanation of the wines specific technical fault along with the date the bottle was opened, Lot number and cork code to enable us to support your claim.

Where deemed reasonable credit will be provided on faulty goods. Please note that there is a 6-month window cut off period on crediting faulty goods from date of delivery. Each scenario will be evaluated individually. Claims after 6 months can potentially be credited only if we receive credit in return from the original source.

adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd will endeavour to ensure all confirmed orders are met, however, if in the unlikely event due to any unforeseen circumstances outside of adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd's control, whereby we are unable to fulfil your order (due to producer failure, shortfall in logistics or for any other reason) we will offer you similar wines, or will refund you in full at the original Invoice price without any liability to you. If any unpaid invoices are outstanding from you to H2Vin a credit will be raised for the amount(s) you owe to adVINture T/A H2Vin Ltd, from which we will confirm this in writing.
